Mayor Reiterates Financial Policy

DEFICITS FACED IN STREET AND ASH DEPARTMENTS UNLESS MORE MONEY IS RAISED

At an adjourned meeting of the public service board held at noon today at city hall, City Engineer Kearney submitted a report of the financial condition of the departments which come under the jurisdiction of the board, as submitted to him by City Auditor Martin. Mr. Kearney also made recommendations to the board concerning a proposed supplementary budget for certain departments, and at the close of the meeting the engineer's recommendations were submitted to Mayor John J. Donovan.

The report deals with figures concerning each department, including the appropriations granted in the early part of the year, the money expended and the balance on hand. An analysis of the report as prepared by the engineer shows that the balance left in the ash department is not sufficient to carry on the department efficiently for the last six months of the year and at the same time live within the 48-hour law; in other words the department is facing a deficit of approximately $12,000. In addition the engineer states the ash department is sorely in need of up-to-date equipment.

Relative to street maintenance, the engineer points out that the deficit will be in the vicinity of $25,000. The street lighting, street special and street sprinkling departments should be able to live within their appropriations. The deficit of the water works department will be in the vicinity of $35,000, and in addition there will be an additional expense for the installation of new boilers at the West Sixth street pumping station.

Under the non-revenue heading, the engineer states that providing the departments receive the additional $48,400 asked for in the form of loans, the schedule of work previously announced will be completed. In conclusion he says where a deficit is apparent in any department, it shall be his endeavor to satisfy only the ordinary demands. In such departments, and by strict economy, reduce the deficit to a minimum. To this end, some redistribution of employees and other changes in department detail will be immediately effected, while more will take place from time to time, in the interest of efficiency and economy.

In the letter sent to the mayor by the board a recommendation is made for an additional appropriation of $12,000 for the ash and waste department in order that the 48-hour law may be enforced. This board also recommends an additional appropriation of $25,000 for the street maintenance department.

BRITISH NOTE IS DELIVERED

Knowledge of Its Contents Limited to Small Group of Officials

Paris and Washington Receive Copies—Absolute Secrecy Until Released by British

PARIS, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The British note on reparations was received at the foreign office today.

Knowledge of the note's contents is limited to a small group of foreign office officials, each of whom promised Premier Poincaré to keep the information to himself, the premier saying that the French government had given its word of honor to observe absolute secrecy until the British government agreed to the note's publication.

Premier Poincaré's address at the momentous occasion in Villiers-Cotteret tomorrow will present anew France's attitude on the reparations issue, but as the speech had been written before the British note arrived it will be a simple statement of the French position without regard to the questions raised by the British.

Actual negotiations among the allies will be begun next week, as soon as the French and Belgian premiers have had time to discuss the note with their cabinets. The French cabinet ministers will probably meet Monday or Tuesday and go over the note with Premier Poincaré. Afterwards views will be exchanged with Belgium.

Washington Gets Copy WASHINGTON, July 21. The British note on reparations sent to the allied capitals also was delivered to the Washington government today as a matter of information. State department officials said the text would not be made public, nor could the subject be discussed. The note came through the American embassy in London.

One hundred and fifty soldiers, comprising Battery B and the Combat and Headquarters troops of the 12th Field Artillery, 26th Division, left Lowell this morning on the 9:20 train for Camp Devens, where they will go into training for two weeks.

The soldiers assembled at the armory at 8 o'clock. At 9:10 o'clock the companies were formed on the drill floor and, after inspection marched to the station where special cars were waiting. It was a hot day for any military movement but the boys seemed to enjoy getting ready and looked forward to a pleasant tour of duty at camp.

Battery B was under the command of Capt. George J. Faneuil, and Lieutenants George W. Emsley, and Harry J. Jerome. The Combat Train was commanded by Lieut. Ariston K. Barrows and his assistants were Lieut. Francis Bails and Lieut. R. W. Rouse.

There will be no drilling today, or tomorrow. Sunday is a rest day at a training camp just as it is at home and church services will be held for the first time.

BORROWING BY CITIES TO BE GREATLY CURTAILED UNDER NEW FINANCE LAW Recent Legislation Which Becomes Operative July 30, Designed to Discourage Borrowing Habit and Seems to Have Better Than Fair Chance of Success—Law Drastic in Its Stipulations

(Special to The Sun) BOSTON, July 21.—Borrowing of money by cities and towns will be attended by some difficulties this year unless the financial officers thereof speedily familiarize themselves with the provisions of an act passed by the last legislature, Chapter 223 of the Acts of 1923.

The new law is designed to discourage the borrowing habit, and in many cases its effect will be to absolutely prohibit the borrowing of money for any and all purposes now authorized by law; constructing buildings; original equipment for public buildings; construction of bridges of stone or concrete, or of iron structures; original construction of public ways or the extension or widening thereof; and for land damages in connection therewith, for permanent road paving, construction of walls or dikes for the protection of tax levy for meeting at least a portion of it. Specifically, it provides that at least twenty-five cents for each $1,000 of assessed valuation must be appropriated in the year during which the loan is made.

The purpose to which the new law applies are: Construction of sewers for sanitary and surface drainage purposes and for sewage disposal; acquiring land for public parks or public domains; acquiring land for any other purpose now authorized by law; constructing buildings; original equipment for public buildings; construction of bridges of stone or concrete, or of iron structures; original construction of public ways or the extension or widening thereof; and for land damages in connection therewith, for permanent road paving, construction of walls or dikes for the protection of Mayor Will Not Approve Bill As an aftermath of the "fireworks" at meetings of the city council in relation to the fireworks exhibit on the South common on the evening of July 4, Mayor John J. Donovan stated today that he will not approve the bill of the American Fireworks Co. for $1000 until he has conferred and gone over the entire matter with a representative of the company.

Department Heads Asked to Show Why More Money Will Be Needed

Mayor Insists That Additional Appropriations Figure in 1923 Tax Rate

Mayor John J. Donovan interviewed today in relation to the semi-annual report submitted by the city auditor, and the following comment to make bearing upon the financial situation of the various departments for the first half of the year:

"I am naturally pleased with the showing made by the different departments of the city," he said. "It indicates that department heads are making an earnest effort to live within their appropriations and to give serious attention to the attitude of this office in relation to keeping within the original appropriation granted to them at the beginning of the year. I am communicating with several of the departments, including streets, and the isolation hospital, to file with me at once their estimates for the remainder of the year, and to assign an opinion as to justifiable reasons, if any, why their appropriations should be depleted before the end of the year."

"I have stated repeatedly that I will not favor supplemental appropriations for departments unless there are justifiable reasons for so doing, or emergencies of an unforeseen nature arise. If there are any supplemental appropriations to be given departments, I will recommend this month such appropriations and not permit these departments to become exhausted in November or December."

"In order that the city may have an honest tax rate this year and all departmental appropriations provided for in this year's tax levy, supplementary appropriations must now be considered and voted, so that same may be included in this year's tax levy. This has been my financial policy. I will put it into effect, even though it will represent a higher tax rate for the year."

The showing made by the department for the first six months, however, indicates that a very limited supplemental appropriation will be required, and unless heads of departments can justify their asking for additional appropriations to operate for the remainder of the year, they will be told a thing or two quite emphatically."

JUDGE DEPLORES ATTITUDE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS TOWARD LOWELL COURT

Judge Enright took occasion in open court today to comment on the action of the county commissioners yesterday in awarding contracts for repairs and improvements in court buildings in Cambridge at an expense of $275,000, while Lowell gets nothing.

Judge Enright said the appeal of the members of the Lowell bar has been unheeded by the commissioners. Last fall a delegation from Lowell requested that the commission do something in this city, but when the commissioners petitioned to the legislature for permission to borrow money, they said nothing about Lowell.

"And East Cambridge gets it all," said Judge Enright. "Lowell cannot get a thing."

In discussing the subject later, Supt. of Police Atkinson said that something would have to be done very soon. The county's lease on the quarters occupied by the court in the police station expires this year, and already the commission has notified the city that unless something is done to remedy conditions there, the lease will not be renewed.

RICHARD BARTHELMESS and Tyrone Power in "FURY"

AT THE STRAND THEATRE THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THIS STRAND
Patrons of The Strand will have the opportunity of seeing a truly extraordinary picture during the first part of the coming week, when "Backbone," a screen version of one of the most recent popular Saturday Evening Post stories will be presented for four days, beginning with matinee on Sunday. It tells a powerful story of a romance which endures through many generations, and is played by a cast remarkable for versatility and experience. Alfred Lunt takes the male lead, and Edith Roberts appears in the stellar female role. Both are specially fitted for their respective characterizations.

and the results of their efforts is most satisfying.

"Backbone" is a story of the fulfillment in the twentieth century of a romance which was cherished in previous generations. It is a story of a man brought to a happy and satisfying end, until all sorts of mystery and intrigue have been solved and thwarted. Clarence Huntington, Richard Barthelmess, and Tyrone Power are the stars of the picture. "Backbone" is the latest picture release through First National, will be the second feature for the first part of the week. "Minnie" like all of Neilan's productions, is of rare worth in emotional power. There is not a dull moment in it. It is a very human story about a household drudge who is so honest that no one would like to tell her. Her father owns the hotel in the town but is so taken with a new invention that he neglects his property and the girl has to take up her father's duties. Minnie, the hotel maid, who is running a hotel, to the great discomfiture of the patrons. The story is full of incidents that provide humor in the quantity, but underneath it all is the deep sea from the pen of Edmund Goulding. It is heralded as the most ambitious picture in which this star has been engaged.

For the last three days of the week, Richard Barthelmess and Edith Roberts in "Fury" will head the bill. This is a gripping, stirring drama of the deep sea from the pen of Edmund Goulding. It is heralded as the most ambitious picture in which this star has been engaged.

Glady's Walton is always interesting and entertaining. Especially so in the "The Town Scandal," a lively, vivacious, sparkling story of a flapper girl. The locale is on and about Broadway, New York.

The comedy and Weekly, as well as the musical numbers by Al Forrest and Leo Betoncourt. Add to these features the wonderfully satisfying com-

"An Old Sweetheart of Mine," and Alice Terry in "Where the Pavement Ends." Features for First of Week.

"An Old Sweetheart of Mine," the great poem by James Whitcomb Riley, which has thrilled thousands by its fascinating picture of almost forgotten romance, has been adapted for the screen and will be shown at the Merrimack Square Theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Elliott Dexter and Helen Jerome Eddy are featured in the leading roles.

The second feature for the first part of the week is "Where the Pavement Ends," a Rex Ingram production with Alice Terry in the leading role. The photoplay version of "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" retains all the human appeal of the poem. It is the poem itself made to live before our eyes. And the dramatic interest is enhanced by a beautiful and thrilling story which fits admirably the spirit of the lyric. Where the original poem suggests, the picture amplifies. It is a simple lyrical melody, orchestrated and expanded into a powerful and beautiful photoplay symphony.

One feels in seeing this picture, that the great poet would have been proud to have his good music made into a picture harmony of such rare charm.

The photoplay begins with the love of John Craig and his boyhood sweetheart, with its youthful trials and joys. This love develops, through young married life and finally blossoms into undying devotion. The story is filled with thrills and rapid action. There are conflicts and perils. It is a picture that will hold the interest at every moment.

The selection of Elliott Dexter for the leading male role was particularly fortunate. He can portray power and tenderness with equal ability. And Helen Jerome Eddy, as the girl who creates, with rare charm, a novel type of heroine. The whole cast is of the highest excellence.

Rex Ingram has captured in a magnificent fashion the romantic and poetic spirit of the South Seas in his latest production for Metro, "Where the Pavement Ends." It is an extraordinary photoplay in every detail—beautiful in conception and execution.

It is not like anything Mr. Ingram has ever done and it marks another high point in the career of this young genius of the film. To say that "Where the Pavement Ends" is Mr. Ingram's work is to say that it bears the stamp of distinction and artistic finesse. This production is certainly off the beaten track, in visual appeal as well as in story.

The story tells how love came into the life of the lonely, beautiful daughter of a South Seas missionary. And it is romance supreme, amid the beauty and strangeness of the luxuriously tropics where love and hate burn with consuming flame.

Two men fight for her with that furious madness which can be engendered only by jealousy over a beautiful girl. Hence the plot moves forward to a thrilling climax. The story has in it all that strange and exotic romance which is associated with the islands far below the equator.

RIALTO THEATRE

"The Trail of the Axe," a new picture in which Dustin Farnum is the star, is the chief attraction at the Rialto Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The story of this picture enables the popular actor to play the sort of character he likes best. He is seen as David Mackern, owner of a thriving lumber camp whose contracts must be filled on time or else a large forfeit in money must be paid. David is a happy-go-lucky sort of a fellow who suddenly finds that the girl he loves has engaged herself to his good-for-nothing brother. David's efforts to make his brother worthy of the girl and the sensational manner in which the fellow repays him, gives Dustin his opportunity for straight-from-the-shoulder acting.

Admirers of Farnum by this time know that he prefers stories of the great outdoors, as "The Virginian" and "The Squaw Man." He is happiest as an actor and happiest as a man in an environment created by nature. Society plays hamper him for he is a big fellow who breathes fully and moves freely in open spaces such as prairies and forests. That's why you will like him in "The Trail of the Axe." Other members in the cast include Joseph J. Dowling, George Fisher and Clifford Kingston.

The companion attraction is "The Wrong Woman," a strong drama directed by Ivan Abramson and co-starring Olive Tell and Montagu Love. Society plays hamper him for he is a big fellow who breathes fully and moves freely in open spaces such as prairies and forests. That's why you will like him in "The Trail of the Axe." Other members in the cast include Joseph J. Dowling, George Fisher and Clifford Kingston.

KASINO ATTRACTION

The Kodomar trio scored another decided hit at the Kasino last night when they sang several catchy numbers to the accompaniment of Campbell's orchestra as a large and happy crowd of dancers plied over the smooth Kasino surface. The boys will be on hand again tonight to repeat their stellar program of modern jazz songs.

Next Monday night in the Kasino, Jimmy Batho and Miss Louise Fontaine, the two best dancers in the Merrimack valley, will give an exhibition of their skill in the tango-ho-ho-ho art. Mr. Batho needs no introduction to local dance devotees as he has performed in several Lowell halls in recent years and yet the public never tires of his versatile wares. Those who have witnessed his recent rehearsals with his new partner, Miss Fontaine, aver that his Monday night performance will surpass his most intimate associates. General dancing will precede and follow their exhibition.

ELECTION COMMISSION SALARY QUESTION THREATENS TO RIVAL LEAGUE OF NATIONS DEBATE

"The League of Nations was a minor affair in comparison with the subject we are now discussing. We have talked our heads off and have accomplished nothing. At the rate we are now going these men will not receive their increase in 100 years. I believe it is best to pass the ordinance tonight and then come what may."

This statement made last night by Councilman Daniel Cosgrove at a special meeting of the city council, was a high spot in the discussion of the salary ordinance which aims to establish the election commission salaries at $2000 a year.

Some members of the council favored referring the ordinance back to the city solicitor and mayor, while others believed the proper course to follow was to pass the ordinance and send it to the mayor for approval. After considerable discussion, however, it was voted to refer the ordinance to the city solicitor with instructions to request the mayor to prepare a supplementary budget to cover the salary increase.

Another matter that was brought to the attention of the council was the report of Mayor John J. Donovan on his investigation of the fireworks display on the South common on the evening of July 4. In his letter to the council, Mayor Donovan stated that carrying out the ordinance to exist in regard to such displays and added he believed it best to let the matter drop. He stated, however, that he is satisfied the display could have been handled better.

Although it was believed the meeting would be of short duration, it did not adjourn until 10:30 o'clock. President Cosgrove opened the meeting shortly before 9 o'clock. On account of the heat, and it was intense in the assembly room, all formalities were dropped and the council members and even the spectators removed their coats.

There were only ten councilors present and this handicapped the council to some extent, especially when motions were voted upon especially in relation to the election commission's ordinance, as in two or three instances.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF WEALTHY FARMER

CANAAN, Vt., July 21.—An inquest into the death of Job Cross, wealthy farmer, whose body was found Thursday at Canaan Hill with a bullet wound in the head, was begun today under the direction of Medical Examiner Whitney of Burlington.

An autopsy was performed last night, but the finding was not disclosed. Cross had been missing for a week prior to the discovery of his body.

The body was found at a point eight miles from the spot where his abandoned automobile, overcoat and papers were discovered. A mortgage of $2200 which Cross held on a farm which he recently sold to E. Russell of Canaan Hill was not found when the safe in the Cross home was opened. It was stated, Russell is being held in the lockup here charged with murder.

The funeral is to be held in Canaan this afternoon.

LOWELL MAN WINS ACCIDENT CASE

The Industrial Accident board today handed down a decision in favor of the employee, Thomas King, 201 Middlesex street, in his claim against the Maryland Casualty Ins. Co., for compensation because of injuries received by falling from a staging while employed as a carpenter by Samuel Dean, Dec. 26, 1922.

The case was originally heard in Lowell by Commissioner Gleason on June 11, who, after hearing the evidence, made a finding that Mr. King was totally incapacitated and ordered the insurance company to pay him $10 a week during his incapacity, and to make his back payments amounting $124. From this finding the insurance company appealed to the full board at Boston, and the case was argued by counsel at Boston on July 5. After hearing counsel, the board took the matter under advisement and today rendered a decision in favor of Mr. King, affirming the finding of Commissioner Gleason. Mr. King was represented by Attorney P. Harold Ready.

CONGRESS OF BAPTIST WORLD ALLIANCE

STOCKHOLM, July 21.—By the Associated Press. The third congress of the Baptist world alliance, which begins its sessions here today, brings together the leading forces of the Baptist denomination throughout the world, including a large American representation. The congress will issue a new declaration of Baptist principles and will take a definite stand on a number of the important world issues.

The European delegates, excluding the Scandinavian countries, number nearly 500, and those with the representatives from North and South America, Asia and Africa, bring the grand total to several thousands.

The recent death of Rev. R. S. MacArthur of New York has made vacant the office of president and considerable interest hinges on the selection of his successor. Each country is represented by a vice president, but the constitution indicates no seniority for the appointment to the presidency.

Borrowing by Cities To Be Curtailed highways, purchase of land for cemetery purposes, departmental equipment, and action of school boards meeting difficulties with common sewer, and for the alteration of nuisances in order to conserve the public health.

In connection with the new law Theodore N. Wadford, director of municipal accounts in the department of the commissioner of corporations and taxation, whose duty it will be to have oversight of the law, makes this statement:

"The principle of the new law has been in effect, so far as departmental equipment is concerned, since 1914. It is based on the theory that if municipalities at least a portion of an annually recurring cost.

This act is a step in the direction of the pay-as-you-go policy. The amount required to be placed in the levy or a given year is small, but by this act cities and towns must raise this small amount before they are permitted to borrow. In the past, municipal borrowing has been extremely easy, and has been frequently resorted to because it was realized that the burden of raising the money would fall upon a subsequent administration.

"In recommending the legislation, the special commission on municipal finance and taxation of last year had two objects in view: First, to encourage cities and towns to adopt the pay-as-you-go policy, and second, to force immediate contributions from the tax levy, thereby putting an end to at least some of the borrowing.

GERMAN SHOT AND KILLED.—DUESSELDORF, July 21. A German lurking in the vicinity of a French supply camp at Grevenbroich last night was shot and killed by a sentinel whose challenge was unanswered. The French authorities say the man apparently was about the camp with the purpose of starting a band.

The Looker-on in Lowell

A coal dealer of Fall River who visited Lowell recently expressed surprise at the prices asked by local coal dealers. "It is a wonder to me," he said, "how the coal dealers in Lowell get away with their prices. In Fall River our prices range from $2 to $3 per ton less than in Lowell."

After some conversation with this man he finally asked the lower freight rates to Fall River and water transportation to the city would possibly account for the difference, but even then he was not willing to admit that these two items would account for it entirely.

Furthermore, he declared that at no time, even during the coal shortage, were Fall River coal prices as high as Lowell's present rates.

It surely is fascinating to know that such disparity in prices exists within such a small area. It is an example of how water transportation induces lower priced commodities and practically forces the railroads to lower their rates to meet competition.

Hasvorth for instance which gets some coal, particularly bituminous, by water has lower coal prices than Lowell.

Another thing to be remembered is that it is not so soon to begin now to lay plans for the celebration in 1926, and that the city will have to spend no money if the proposition is to be done up good and brown.

Home Ownership in Lowell.

The Associated General Contractors of America have issued statistics showing the percentage of home ownership in cities having a population of 100,000 or more, which includes Lowell. According to the 1920 census, 55.6 per cent.

Orangemen Want Envoy Recalled

WINNIPEG, July 21.—Rev. David Ness of White Inch, Glasgow, Scotland, today appealed to the 120 voting delegates of the New Imperial Grand Orange Council of the World to demand the immediate recall of their British envoy at the Vatican, who he said, was "as useless as his predecessor was in the years of the great war." It was high time that the British government was brought to book on the subject, he declared. Orangemen all over the world, said Rev. Mr. Ness, were incensed at the recent visit of King George and Queen Mary to Rome, and "these are not the days in which constitutional safeguards should be flouted."

But as long as they stay three miles away they will be safe.

"But heaven help them if they ever start in on mining company property."

EDITOR LORENZ SENTENCED.—CHICAGO, July 21.—Arthur Lorenz, editor of the Chicago Statue Zeitung, who was convicted of libel against the American Legion some time ago, was today sentenced to six months in jail and fined $100. A motion for a new trial was overruled.

The charge was preferred by the American Legion as a result of an editorial written by Lorenz reflecting upon the Legion.

HEADACHE AND DIZZINESS

Usually Caused by Nervous Exhaustion and Can Be Corrected

Headache is never a disease. It is always a symptom. Applications, powders and tablets that drive the headache into the eye are treating the symptoms and the disease, always a useless process and often harmful.

When headache is associated with some disease it is usually the result of nervous exhaustion and will continue as long as the person who is overworked loses the ability to continue. It rapidly disappears when rest and the proper food are taken.

Nervous exhaustion, the cause of such headaches and dizziness, results from a strain on the nerves with which the body is unable to cope. The blood is impeded in its flow to the brain. For all to keep pace. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. With this treatment, dizziness, nervousness, worry, or whatever has caused the nervous breakdown is persisted in, the headache, dizziness, nervousness and irritability that characterize neurasthenia rapidly disappear.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a non-alcoholic tonic particularly suited for nervous people. Your own druggist will tell you they will be sent postpaid by Dr. J. C. Williams, Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., upon receipt of price, sixty cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Insenses of the Nervous System."

McQUILLAN AND O'CONNELL SAVE GIANTS FROM LOSING TO CARDS

Champions Trailing St. Louis at Beginning of Ninth Rally and Land Verdict—Reds Defeat Robins, 11 to 4—Braves and Red Sox Win Games—Many Circuit Clouts

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Brooklyn Robins received a heartening boost with a game, 11 to 4. They had a lot of fun out of it, however, and got 11 hits, one less than the Reds. The Robins' work was extremely good and some of their six errors led directly to Cincinnati runs. However, the Reds' swinging shutout made the Robins' victory a ninth inning rally at the Polo Grounds, and the Robins' victory at the Cardinals' was a 5 to 2. At the beginning of the last day of the month, the St. Louis team was ahead 8 to 5, but $175,000 worth of talent in the persons of McQuillan and O'Connell, who cost $100,000 and $75,000 respectively, was called to the fore and answered with the goods. O'Connell hit a two-bagger and McQuillan a single, both driving in runs.

In Boston, the Sox and the Red Sox won a round trip each, with a man on base, but this wasn't enough to do. The home team, and Pittsburgh went down 8 to 5. Treynor, who holds

Shots That Counted Most in National Open

Here's how Bobby Jones took a six on the eighteenth hole at Inwood. He drove to the right at the edge of the rough. His second was played into the wind for the pin. He pulled this shot a bit too hard and it hooked into the edge of the crowd. A weak chip shot fell short and into the trap. His out was over the pin and it took two putts to get him in.

This shows how Bobby Cruickshank put everything he had into the putt for a birdie three on the eighteenth tying up the match with Bobby Jones.

His first was a powerful drive of 250 yards and his second landed dead to the pin where he layed his memorable putt for a birdie three.

BIGBEE OF PITTSBURGH STAR HITTER

BY HILLY EVANS

They are not always ripe the moment they bounce off the minor league tree.

Carson Lee Bigbee, left fielder with the Pittsburgh Pirates, is regarded as the Tris Speaker among National League outfielders. He didn't hit the 200 trial until his sixth season.

Going through this development course covering five years, Bigbee finally has established himself as not only a brilliant fly-chaser but one of the leading hitters in the circuit.

METROPOLITAN GRASS COURT CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, July 21.—The eastern turf court season will be started this afternoon on the courts of the Metropolitan Athletic Club when the Metropolitan Grass Court Championship opens with a notable list of entries.

The champions and would-be champions have been picked in from all parts of the country for a chance at a little tournament play in preparation for the national tourney.

Byron O. Norton, the South African star, has just arrived in America and is ready for some strenuous work and William M. Johnson has returned from his conquest at Wimbledon and Paris.

Alvin Karpis, winner of the Metropolitan event last year, early this month arrived yesterday on the Aqueduct but said he doubted whether he would play in the singles, as he needed a rest.

Johnson will not appear in the singles, as he figures he has earned a slight rest after his triumph in the world championship, but he will enter the doubles event, paired with his old-time mate, Dick Griffin, who took the national doubles with him in 1915 and 1920.

The matches that stand out on the first day are those of Dr. King against Percy L. Keston, and Frank Kellogg against Lewis N. White. Matches will be held every day next week with one final on Saturday and the other on Sunday, weather permitting.

CHAMPION VILLA WINS OVER ABE FRIEDMAN

BOSTON, July 21.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight boxing champion, last night decisively defeated Abe Friedman, Boston bantamweight, in a 10-round bout. Villa weighed in at 113½ pounds and Friedman at 117 pounds.

The little brown man from the Philippine Islands hit his heavier opponent with every blow in his repertoire and won rather easily.

In the fifth round Villa had Friedman on the verge of a knockout, but did not have quite enough weight behind his wallop to knock the bantamweight out.

In the first round the Filipino boxed cautiously, feeling out his opponent, who weighed three and one-half pounds more than himself and in this round and the third round Friedman had a shade the better of the argument.

In every other round, Villa found the range for snappy blows to the head and body and easily outpointed Friedman.

The Boston fighter, a keen defensive boxer and a solid puncher, was bothered by Villa's whirlwind speed. He never found the range to land solid except for a few blows in the early rounds.

Kinks o' the Links

Smith is playing a match game against Jones. They both reach the green in three and find that their balls have straggled rather close together. Smith putts and looks out with what he believes is his ball. On lifting it from the cup he finds that he has putted with Jones' ball. Is there a penalty for the proper mistake and what is the proper procedure since the error is discovered immediately?

Where is a penalty because Smith has played Jones' ball. The ball is replaced as near as possible to where it lay before Smith had cut out with the wrong ball. The players then proceed to play the hole out with their proper balls.

In medal competition player drives his ball from the tee into the rough. In searching for the lost ball the player accidentally stepped on the ball. The force of contact caused it to move about a foot. Is there a penalty for such an act, or is the happening regarded as a mere accident and the player permitted to drop his ball as near as possible to its original lie?

Section 3 of rule 13, which covers this disputed point, says: "When a ball is in play, if a player accidentally moves it or by touching anything causes it to move, the penalty shall be one stroke. Therefore, the player who stepped on his own ball, causing it to move, should be penalized one stroke."

Puzzling Plays

By Hilly Evans

The Play

Is it possible to have two different rulings on plays that appear identical? This question is raised by the following conditions:

There is a runner on first base. The pitcher, while standing perhaps a foot in front of the rubber, delivers the ball to the batsman, who does not offer at it. What is the ruling?

In the other case the bases are empty, when the pitcher, while standing a foot in front of the rubber, delivers the ball to the batter. He does not offer at it. What is the proper ruling?

The Interpretation

If, with a runner on first, the pitcher delivers the ball to the batsman while in front of the rubber, and the batsman does not offer at the ball, that act by the pitcher constitutes a balk.

The runner on first should advance to second. The pitch has no bearing on the batsman.

If, with the bases empty, the pitcher delivers the ball to the batsman while in front of the rubber, and the batsman does not offer at it, such a pitch is called a "ball" whether it goes over the plate or not.

Thus, with a runner on the bases, the act is a balk, with the bases empty it is a ball, provided the batter does not offer at the pitch.

CARSON LEE BIGBEE

In the Northwestern League, Bigbee was regarded as an excellent type for the lead-off position in the batting order. He was a choppy swimmer, a good judge of a pitched ball, an artist in bunting, who did not go in for the straightaway hitting.

HAS THE NATIONAL GAME SLOWED UP?

Is baseball as played today as skillful and fast as it was 20 years ago?

Comparisons between past and present in any branch of sport always make for heated argument.

Baseball is no exception. As a general thing players of the present day resent the opinion that the game is slowing up, that it lacks many of the thrills of other days.

Here are the opinions of some of the leading stars of the present and past. From the stars of the present day seem to think that the game has slipped back a bit in many respects.

"Baseball is more popular today than ever," says Connie Mack, who attended games from 1890. "There is a decided change in the style of baseball of today and that of 20 or more years ago. The fans of today are getting the slugging variety, which is fastened by home runs. By the way they pack the ball parks they seem to live in. I don't think that baseball has gone back as much as it has suffered a change of style. Slugging baseball doesn't call for much inside stuff. In that respect the national pastime has deteriorated."

"Baseball seems to have slipped in every department in the last 20 years with the possible exception of hitting," says Frank Chance. "Hitting has been on the increase for several years. I do not believe the increase has been due so much to a better grade of batsmen as to the bally ball. In pitching and baserunning there has been a decided falling off."

New for the season of some of the active participants.

"Baseball is the 15 years I have been connected with the major leagues," says Eddie Collins. "The slugging game does not call for as much concentration and therefore less of the expected. Today every batter is up there taking a healthy swing. The batter who wants them out is the exception. The man running on the bases is pretty much a lost art. Play for one run no longer means with me. I wouldn't care to say exactly that the standard of play has deteriorated, but I do know that it has suffered a complete change."

"Baseball today does not call for intensive practice," says Ted Cobb. "Today it is more a question of brawn than brain. One run means so little nowadays that it is foolish to take long chances to run the trick. Clubs are so accustomed to getting runs in clusters that one run means little in their life. In the old days, many a ball game was decided by a one-run margin with low scores predominating. In the modern era there have been a lot of high runs and all-absorbing desire to make home runs."

"The style of baseball has changed

THE GREAT VOLO WINS FAST FREE-FOR-ALL

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 21.—The greatest free-for-all trot ever staged at Recreation park, resulting in the three fastest heats ever trotted over a Michigan track, was raced yesterday. The time for the three miles was 2:02 1/2, 2:03 1/2 and 2:04 1/2.

The great Volo, son of Peter the Great and driven by Walter R. Cox, won the first and third heats in desperate contests with Peter the Brewer, son of Peter the Great, piloted by Regan. Peter the Brewer took the second heat. Each mile was a fight from wire to wire, the field of seven in the first heat.

When the great Volo took the first heat by capturing the pole position at the three-quarters and holding it. In the second heat, Peter the Brewer, finished ahead and looked promising for the third mile. The clutch of the third mile was sensational. Close to the distance flag, Peter the Brewer appeared a winner, but with 100 yards to go, Great Volo showed a terrific burst of speed and won by a nose.

A popular victory occurred in the 2:03 heat when "Pop" George drove My Lord home in straight head-on style.

The 2:04 race went into four heats when Regan Redwood, Peter Elvish and Lilian Silkwood each won a heat. The extra heat, to decide the race, however, resulted in a victory for Lilian Silkwood.

The 2:15 race was won by Quint after Little George captured the first heat. There were only four starters.

GEN. GARIBOLDI CALLS ON PREMIER MUSSOLINI

ROME, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Mussolini today received General Ricciotti Garibaldi, son of the Italian liberator, and his daughter, Italia, who urged the premier to support the scheme for directing Italian emigration to Canada which Signorina Garibaldi has presented to him.

The object of the plan is to send these emigrants who are unable to enter the United States because of the quota restrictions particularly where the local Italian authorities are ready to give them assistance.

At the conclusion of the interview the premier having promised to examine the scheme, the general asked Mussolini to allow him to take from the premier's buttonhole the Fascist badge for his own wear. The premier granted the request and himself put it on the coat of the veteran general.

TURCO-AMERICAN PACT

Repeated Conferences Fail to Settle Disputed Points in Proposed Treaty

LAUSANNE, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Repeated conferences between Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland, and Ismet Pasha, Turkish foreign minister, and between the American and Turkish experts do not appear to have advanced the settlement of the disputed points in the proposed Turco-American treaty. The Turks are continuing to manifest the same attitude that they showed toward the allies.

The Americans evidently have no intention of being hurried into the signing of a convention which in their view does not properly safeguard American legitimate interests.

The scheme for control of the Turkish Straits will be incorporated into the American treaty by a clause assuring to United States merchant men and warships privileges equal to those accorded any other nation. Without entering into the details of the straits regime this will give the United States all the privileges of the straits convention which will be signed by the European states, including Great Britain and France.

The first work to be undertaken by the committee, according to the plans formulated, is to get back into the organization those who joined shortly after the war, but who failed to keep up their membership. After this work has been completed a drive for new members will be made to bring the total membership up to 1500.

In the case of those men who failed to pay their dues and were dropped, Commander Joseph A. Melloy has authorized the members of the committee to accept dues and to sign receipts for money received.

The drive will begin at once and it is expected that the goal will be reached within a short time.

Ring Becomes Criqui's "Home" as Fight Nears

Eugene Criqui, "pride of France," practically lives in the squared circle now. Here he is, in the picture at the left, winding up his training for his fight with Johnny Dundee at the Polo Grounds, New York, Thursday, July 26. That scrap will decide whether he will carry back across the sea the featherweight title he recently won from Johnny Kilbane. In the center, he's having a social little game of card with his trainer during leisure moments. And on the right you'll note he's studying the fight pictures. They're the ones that show how Willard fell before Firpo's onslaughts. Criqui's probably wondering how he'll show in the pictures after it's all over between him and Dundee.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Terrified by smoke and flames, 225 horses threatened the lives of firemen and a crowd of innocent dwellers early today, when they were released from a stable adjoining a fire in a Bronx paint shop.

A stable hand was knocked down and injured in the stampede when the doors were blown open.

For half an hour the horses charged up and down in front of the burning structure, tripping over fire hose, knocking down ladders and scattering spectators.

The chief of police has instructed his men to take all possible measures to suppress disorders. Hundreds of arrests have been made and several plunderers have been killed.

The inhabitants have been advised to stay off the streets and the sale of liquor has been prohibited.

Denies Gibbons Received $23,000

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 21.—Reports from Omaha, that Tommy Gibbons had received $23,000 for his fight with Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight champion, at Shelby, Mont., July 4, were emphatically denied today by Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager. "Gibbons did not receive one cent," Kane said. "He was paid, however, his training expenses and that money went to defray the cost of his camp and sparring partners. His only source of revenue will be from the motion pictures."

So this sled, which draws but eight inches of water, carries six men and travels 30 miles an hour, was devised.

Election Commission Salary Question

At the request of Councilor Sadler the ordinance was read. Mr. Sadler then asked City Solicitor Reynolds what was involved about the ordinance, and the reply was, "making it retroactive, and the matter of financing it." He also informed the council that the only way to pass such an ordinance was by making a supplementary budget, after retroactive clause had been attached.

Solicitor Reynolds quoted Section 33 of Chapter 44 of the General Laws as follows:

"The municipal budget shall include sums sufficient to pay the salaries of officials fixed by law or ordinance, but no new position shall be created or increase made during the fiscal year subsequent to the submission of the annual budget, unless provision therefor is made by means of a supplementary budget."

At this point J. Joseph Hennessy, counsel for the mayor, asked the council to ask the city solicitor a few questions and if granted him, he asked the city solicitor if a law passed in 1922 took precedence over one enacted in 1923, and the question was evaded. Two or three more questions were asked by Mr. Hennessy, but they were not answered. At this point Councilor Daly rose to a point of order, saying the council was not meeting for the purpose of hearing an argument between two lawyers.

Mr. Daly then proposed several questions to the city solicitor. In answer to a question from Mr. Daly, President Gallagher stated that all orders should emanate from the office of the city solicitor so that they could be followed up afterwards.

Mr. Daly then asked the word "retroactivity" contained in the ordinance, saying the members of the commission performed the work and should be remunerated. Mr. Reynolds stated that they were paid for their services inasmuch as they drew $1000 a year.

Mr. Hennessy then stated that the legislature commands the men to do the work and they have no option. He explained that if the commission were being paid from Jan. 1, then it would be retroactive. He said if the solicitor did something commendable and the council appropriated money for his deed, that would be gratuity. "You are not creating a new board," he said.

For the legislature did that. With all this, he asked the city solicitor the work and they feel they are entitled to the salary fixed for them by law. It is not a question of cutting a hair, but a question of the integrity of this body in observing the laws of the commonwealth.

At the close of the discussion, which lasted over half an hour, Councilor Cosgrove moved that the ordinance be passed and sent to the mayor for approval. Councilor McGovern moved an amendment to the motion that the ordinance be referred back to the city solicitor with instructions to request the mayor to prepare a supplementary budget to cover the salary increase. Both the amendment and the motion were lost, the vote being 10 in both instances.

Mr. McGovern then moved again that the matter be referred to the solicitor and mayor. Mr. Sadler moved an amendment that the salary be made retroactive. The amendment was lost and the motion was carried.

President Gallagher then appointed the following committees in accordance with motion presented at the last meeting by Councilor Cosgrove: Investigation of the assessor's department—Councilor McGovern, McFadden, General Park, Professor McGovern, Fitzgerald, Chas. and Chadwick. Old Home Week celebration—Councilors Stearns, Lambert, Daly, Cameron and Hennessy.

On motion of Councilor Cosgrove it was voted to request the officials of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. and New England Telephone Co. and the inspector of water to confer with the council in an effort to remove the unsightly areas of both companies' underground pipes from the streets.

A letter was received from the Lowell Historical society to the effect that the organization was willing and ready to cooperate with the council in making the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of Lowell as a town, the historic event ever held in this city. At the request of Councilor Sadler the council voted to send a letter of thanks to Col. Crowley for his gift to the Lowell. An order granting permission to the Lowell Electric Light Corp. to erect and maintain three poles in Fort Hill avenue, was approved. Adjournment was taken at 10:25 o'clock until Tuesday, Aug. 21.

THE MESS AT MANILA

It appears that General Wood, governor of the Philippines, has taken a rumor on his hands as a result of wholesale resignations of Philippine officials at Manila. The Philippine leaders are quite indignant as a result of General Wood's manipulation of affairs which they hold should be left to them. The resignations that have taken place are a direct protest against the action of General Wood in re-instating an official who was accused of bribery but exonerated. They regard this as a species of official whitewash that is unjust and at the same time an unwarranted interference with their prerogatives.

It appears that there has been more or less friction between the governor-general and the Philippine people during the past year. The latter feel that they have been grossly misrepresented as being a savage people and part of the "yellow peril." They deny these charges and assert that they belong to the brown race and are proud of it. They assert, furthermore, that they are the only Christian nation in the Orient, and that for over three centuries they have enjoyed the blessing of occidental civilization and culture. They point to the fact that illiteracy is more prevalent in the southern states of this republic than in the Philippines and that they have public and private schools and colleges in every nook and corner of the islands with a university that is older than Harvard, which is the oldest in the United States. Many of the Philippine leaders are superior to General Wood in learning, diplomacy and statesmanship. They point to the service rendered during the World War when 20,000 Philippine boys fought side by side with those of the allies and when the Philippine government offered to the United States an army of 25,000 men which was never used. Furthermore, at the expense of the Philippines, the destroyer Hazel was built and offered to the American navy while the people over-subscribed their quota of Liberty bonds and Red Cross funds as allotted by the federal government.

In view of these things it is not at all strange that the Philippines resent the indignities cast upon them by Gen. Wood or his supporters in a yellow peril or that they are "yellow" in the meaning in which that term is used in the United States. It appears that Gen. Wood has made a mess of things at Manila and it is not likely that he can ever square himself with the people. He should be recalled and a man of greater tact and better judgment, one who can win the confidence of the people, sent to take his place.

NEW HIGHWAY DANGERS

Motor bus lines are being established in different parts of the state, some in connection with street railway lines and others independently. It is entirely probable that these lines, under proper control, will render valuable service to the public and as a result become popular where satisfactory car service cannot be obtained.

If they are to use the state highways they will inject a new source of danger that may increase the number of accidents resulting from the operation of motor vehicles. It is to be remembered also that the number of motor trucks doing a freight business between Boston and the outlying cities is rapidly increasing. A company manufacturing companies that that for short hauls they can save money by shipping their products by motor trucks. These trucks, of course, are a great obstruction to the highways and a great source of danger for the reason that drivers of loaded trucks are bound to be very unwilling to get near the side of the road but the wheels sink in the soft ground. When a truck gets a load of freight it is to be expected that the driver will be very unwilling to get near the side of the road but the wheels sink in the soft ground. When a truck gets a load of freight it is to be expected that the driver will be very unwilling to get near the side of the road but the wheels sink in the soft ground.

The time is probably not far distant when several roads will have to be closed for the reason that the heavy trucks are too heavy for the roads. We are now actually running heavy trucks on the roads and the heavy trucks are too heavy for the roads.

AFTER THE COAL ROADS

Railroads of the United States have just been forbidden by the Interstate Commerce commission to give any special supply of cars to bituminous coal mines whose product is intended for railroad fuel, or to mines which own coal cars themselves, any preference in car supply.

It begins to look as though the "I.C.C." was waking up to interest in the serious freight conditions ahead, as affecting coal shipments to consumers anxious to put in their winter supplies.

While the new order will not become effective until Sept. 1, it represents the commission's conclusions arrived at after a long controversy between railroads and mine owners over the rules now regulating the distribution of railroad cars, especially as they operate in times of shortage. In brief, the railroads must show no special favoritism of any kind toward the mines supplying them with heavy coal traffic.

If the "I.C.C." keeps a sharp watch on the maneuvers of some of the Pennsylvania coal-carrying lines after September 1 next, it may result in better shipments of anthracite and less playing of the game of favoritism.

The people of the nation must be served first, and that is as it should be, as the Interstate Commerce commission has apparently at last discovered.

THAT BRITISH NOTE

The British cabinet is having trouble over the note to be sent to Germany on the reparations question. It is natural that difference of opinion should arise when it appears that the reply is the final step towards a rupture between Britain and France. If England favors an international commission to ascertain Germany's ability to pay, without any intention of prejudicing the claims of France, then her course will be justified; but if she takes sides with Germany against France, she will be denounced the world over as betraying an ally that stood by her in the days of extreme peril and suffered all the worst ravages of the greatest war in all history. It is only right that Germany should be compelled to pay reparations indemnity to the last cent of her ability; but it is very plain that she is encouraged by the attitude of Great Britain to offer passive resistance at least to France in the reparations measures adopted. But France is determined to enforce her claim by holding Germany's most treasured district, if she can secure payment in no other way. In that she is fully justified.

CITY ZONING

Much has been said about the necessity of a zoning system to prevent the damage of valuable property by the location in its vicinity of undesirable buildings, factories or warehouses. Until some such system has been adopted, some of the best residential districts in Lowell will remain in continual jeopardy. Never, perhaps, in the history of the city were the transfers of real estate so numerous as at the present time. It is found that the new owners in many cases are making changes in the property they have purchased that will be of serious detriment to other property in the vicinity; but that is none of their affair. So long as our building code permits such changes, these new owners will not hesitate to go ahead regardless of what loss or injury may result to property in the vicinity. There has been a great deal of talk about the necessity of a law and practical zoning system, but as yet nothing has been done about it. It is time that the city government should take the matter up and have it settled properly in the interest of all concerned.

THE SOVIET CONSTITUTION

George Kennan, a recognized authority on Russian affairs, gives out a statement indicating that the so-called Soviet constitution adopted in Russia on July 1, 1918, is nothing more than a collection of promises to deceive the American public. The interior minister is to secure recognition by the United States and perhaps also a loan which the Bolshevik leaders are anxious to obtain although they have been denouncing capital during the last five years and robbing everybody in Russia who had anything worth taking.

Mr. Kennan states that the Russian leaders have no character, no principles, no sense, no honor, no respect for the rights of property, no respect for the rights of the people, no respect for the rights of the nation.

EXPLOITERS

The white man's rule of the East has other people from a remote distance to learn that. If any drift of world affairs is obvious, it is that rule is a system headed for the ash-heap of history, and within 50 years India, Sumatra and the Philippines will be ruled by themselves. This is Captain Salisbury's impression, after touring the world for the Southwestern Museum of California.

As the United States becomes densely populated, it steadily gets more difficult to rule it from one central headquarters, Washington. Scientific government, in the last analysis, is a local and individual problem. National and international co-operation are steadily resolved into clear-cut problems in economics, not politics.

VERMONT SENATORS

As a result of the death of Senator William D. Fernald, Vermont will have two new senators when the next congress meets. Meantime Vermont will have to exercise her best judgment in electing two of her best and ablest men in order to live up to her record in the past. In the five men who served her in the United States senate, she stood on a level with the greatest states of the country.

Senators Edmund Morrill, Proctor, and Fernald left an official record in which Vermont may take justifiable pride.

MAY HE WIN NEXT TIME

It is widely regretted that Lieut. Russell S. Maughan was forced to abandon his attempt to cross the continent between dawn and dusk, through a defeat in the mechanism of his airplane. Fortunately he was not injured when obliged to descend and it is quite probable that he will yet accomplish this great undertaking. Had he been able to continue at the rate at which he was going, when obliged to stop, he would have completed the task within the time planned. It is to be hoped that he will have better luck in his next attempt.

CHANGING INDUSTRIES

The steady tendency in our civilization is to get the same results with fewer employed. This constantly releases man power for the operation of new industries and expansion of old ones—that is, a gradual increase in our average standard of living.

The government census figures show that American farms in 1920 had 1,750,000 fewer workers than in 1910. In the same 10 years the auto industry, movies and railroads added nearly a million employees to their payrolls.

RIGHT TO STRIKE

Despite the fact that Attorney General Daugherty claims to have secured an injunction from the federal court that makes national strikes affecting interstate commerce forever illegal, labor leaders feel that the right to strike has not been taken away from them, and they are probably right. In all the labor legislation provided by congress, that right was left untouched.

The republican panacea of high production has failed. It starts a business boom that favors a special class at the expense of the plain people. In this case the farmers are included with the "plain people" and they are everywhere rising in protest. The low price of wheat and the high price of clothing and equipment will explain their opposition to the republican party in Minnesota and other states.

SUICIDES

About 10,000 Americans committed suicide last year, according to insurance statistics. It compares with around 10,000 murders.

The suicide rate was 15 out of every 100,000 of population. It is on the basis of lifelines, such as apparently ends about one life out of every 100,000, that we take our insurance with us when we pass over. Suicide is a violation of the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," as well as of the law of God.

Like Sunday, however, the list of suicides is long and the list of those who are killed by automobiles is long.

It is to be hoped that the city government should take the matter up and have it settled properly in the interest of all concerned.

It is the time when trees put on New dresses, crisply clean; And meadows gleamingly aware—Toss their green sheets of green.

This time I know! For though I walk A dusty city street, I know I am strangely through My heart's blood faintly sweet.

First and Last Customers

Though she was old she wasn't any more incapable of supporting herself and at the age of 75 she went into the business of providing tea for traveling clerics and storing the clothes of those travelers who decided that they had better return by train.

Her first customers were four young men who left their coats in her charge while they explored the neighborhood. For each coat she gave them a ticket with a number on it.

Later at night the tourists returned. The door-keeper led them to their coats with a smile of self-satisfaction on her face.

"You'll know which is which," she told them, "because I've fastened duplicate tickets on them."

They thanked her and when they found their coats they discovered that the tickets were neatly pinned into each back flap.

He Had Tried It

The teacher was trying to demonstrate a simple experiment in generation of steam. "What have I in my hand?" he asked.

"A tin can," came the answer. "Very true. Is the can an animate or an inanimate object?" continued the teacher.

"Inanimate," was answered. "Exactly. Now can any boy or girl tell me how with this tin can it is possible to generate a superheated steam or steam of power almost beyond control?"

One little boy raised his right hand. "You may answer, 'Carrier,'" he said. "It is a dog's tail."

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Is the reduction in the price of flour, now down below $8 per barrel, the forerunner of a tumbling in prices of other commodities?

Butter is more careful than ever before crossing the streets, as latest reports show that the Ford factory output has reached 8,000,000. If you are good at arithmetic, figure out how much this has netted Henry.

The remarkable interest being shown in Twilight league baseball, played by semi-professionals, ought to be a warning to big league magnates to cut down on their prices. The crowds in the major league cities at Twilight games are often bigger than at the league games.

After every auto accident there are some people who arise and say there should be more laws. But more laws aren't needed so much as a stricter enforcement of the present laws.

Down in Lawrence there is a good deal being said in the press against the fire chief because he refuses to have his brand new Paige auto painted red, instead of a maroon. The Lawrence press claims that red is the standard fire department color, and insists that the fire chief forget his own vanity and get within the fold.

The registration numbers on autos are fast soaring towards the goal of fiction predicted by automobile men before the close of the season. The total number of autos registered in the state so far this year has passed the 500,000 mark.

The following, received today, explains itself:

"Dear Sir: I saw a piece in your column the other day regarding the condition of the Boston-Greenfield road near Lawrence. The item referred to it as 'The Rocky Road to Dublin' but nothing at all on the road between Shawheen and Lawrence, also the last few hundred yards into Shawheen from Lowell. It's terrible, after reconstruction, and necessitates a detour that's a 'wow.' 'Nuff said.'"

Some time ago I wrote a short item concerning the poor condition of the roadway at the Bridge and Canal street crossing. A temporary patch was made there shortly afterwards, but I found yesterday, much to my regret, that the patch gave way under heavy traffic, once again the crossing is dangerous to the springs of automobiles and, on a wet day, to pedestrians, for water gathers in the hole and is splashed for a considerable distance when the wheels of the machines slide into the break. A permanent filling is needed.

Letter Carrier Charles R. Sullivan was abruptly surprised by residents of the Christian Hill section of the city last Friday when he was presented in gold as a token of appreciation for his 20 consecutive years of service in that community. In honor of the occasion, Miss Amy Baker, well known elocutionist, of 134 Myrtle street, has dedicated the following poem to the "Sully."

A years of years—so far and long They stretch ahead—so fast they run—away.

That, gone, their flight is but a span What fortunes bright, what sadnesses black and drear.

They keep for all, the time withholds From our too wistful gaze, not one Can tell the pleasure or the pain In store—But bless the wisdom of the Power.

That so ordains we cannot read The veil that dims in mystery All the waiting years.

We wish to honor one Who on his journey fares along with us, Rejoicing in our happiness And sorrowing for our griefs. The friend

Who goes from door to door in storms Of tyant winter or summer's blazing heat, Good cheer he brings for all who wait—News from the distant loved ones, Words that bring with hope or shadow With a cloud.

A day began most fair, He came, with sympathetic heart He reaches out into the lives of all, Who greet him on his round, as friend—Good friend in all these twenty years! So, we wish you well, oh "Sully," be "Sully," if you will.

We can't say more or wish you more, And we're glad you're with us still.

One reason often by the people who go to Revere beach and Salem without an excursion run by the street railway company is that these excursions are the only ones for which open cars are run. There is little pleasure riding anywhere in a closed or semi-open car this weather, especially on a holiday trip, but the open cars are cool, comfortable and exciting. For those who are between two and three hundred people who make the trip, it might be well for the street railway company to try open cars on the Lakeview route.

No man can help being impressed by what any Hupmobile owner says about his car. He can give remarkable facts and figures of the performance and economy.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

HIGH TIME

When you're tired of work and you're tired of play, When you're sleepless by night and you're restless by day, And when you're convinced that in every old way There's something wrong with creation; When you are a pest to your children and wife, When everything stirs you to anger and strife, And all you can see is the dark side of life, It's time that you took a vacation.

When you start to think, "I'm a downtrodden wight, And there's simply nobody treating me right," When all of the world seems to ride you for spite, And life is one long aggravation; When little things bother, and big things appall, When most of your thoughts are of wormwood and gall, And you are fed up and displeased with it all, It's time that you took a vacation.

When rain makes you ugly, and sun makes you sore, When you and your virtues don't jibe any more, When all of your fellow men's ways you deplore, And view them with sour indignation; When you're all the symptoms of sullen despair, Stop gnashing your teeth and quit tearing your hair; Snap out of it, beat it—go on, get the air! It's time that you took a vacation.

PREPARING FOR HARVEST

Alaskan natives are preparing for the "tourist crop," that is following in the wake of President Harding's tour of the northern territory. They are using their primitive tools to carve exquisite figures in ivory, and are stitching away on moose-skins and leather goods.

Says the old Sun: "War and base ball are not congenial running mates."

That fact has at last come to the base ball umpires through the only vulnerable part of their anatomy—their pockets. On every sale of major league are reducing expenses to prevent them from disbanding. Even the national organization is sweeping slowly towards supplementary proceedings and the sheriff's clutches. A blunder statement does not apply to every club in the league, but it is true of the majority. The history of the present season is a sad tale of disappearing "cents."

Evidently the baseball fans 25 years ago were not very enthusiastic, and then, as now, several of the amateur leagues disbanded. The Twilight League, we note, has passed out, but another has taken its place determined to see the season through and give the people who want to see baseball games a fair exhibition at every appearance.

The first anniversary of Gen. Grant, Order of Spadish Club, was observed on July 19, 25 years ago, by a banquet and entertainment held at Mount Vernon with 75 clermen present. Rev. J. M. Gray invoked the divine blessing and ex-Mayor Pickman and Rev. Dr. A. Maclellan were the principal speakers. J. Stowe Hastings was a prominent figure at the banquet and George May was chief clinician. The writer cannot help remarking that several of our most distinguished representatives of today were present, and that the banquet was a most successful one.

Portrait of Greenhalge On July 20, 1898, the portrait of the late Governor Greenhalge was hung in the chamber of the governor's council at the state house. Mr. Greenhalge is represented as in a position of addressing an audience, an attitude that could be appreciated only by those who had heard his silver toned voice in the noisy assembly in which he was a member.

BRISK BUSINESS IN BUILDING TRADES REFLECTED IN HOMES NOW BEING ERECTED

"Business," said George A. Stewart, secretary of the Lowell Contractors' association, "is very good and is considerably better in every line of work handled by the contractors than it was last year. Bricklayers, plumbers, carpenters and electrical workers have all the work they can possibly do and I do not expect any slackening in the demand until the cold weather sets in."

"The trend of building can easily be followed by comparing the amount of permits granted by the building department in a certain month. The amount of building covered by permits granted during the month of May this year was about double the amount covered one year ago."

"The housing situation has been since the early days of the war, one of the greatest questions before the government and the people. Rents reached unbelievable heights and, up to the present time, have shown no great inclination to come down. A man who does not own his own home is living on the verge of uncertainty for there has been and still is a great amount of trading for investment. Rents are boosted when property changes hands and in many instances this practice has assumed threatening proportions."

"For four years the people of this city hesitated building because of the high cost of labor and materials. There has been a slight decrease in costs within the past year, however, and the people have taken advantage of this, or else have given up hope of prices going any lower, and have begun to build. Several residential sections of the city show unusual structural activity at present as a result. "Changes, however, are being built at an unprecedented rate of speed. Where formerly there was one machine to erect 20 or 30 of our population, it is now doing that there is one to eight. Public garages are taking up every vacant lot of land on the main roads and private garages are built in yards and in locations where lawn areas are sacrificed for their erection."

"The labor situation in the building trades is very good, wages are fairly high, and there has been no labor trouble to amount to anything during the year. Tradesmen find no difficulty in getting work and the contractors are not delayed to any extent by a shortage of labor."

cent of the families in the United States own the homes in which they live, while 54.1 per cent. live in rented quarters. During the preceding ten years the proportion of rented homes increased one-half of one per cent with a corresponding decrease in the proportion of homes owned.

Lowell is 26.1 per cent. home-owned. The only other Massachusetts cities with a home ownership of a percentage high enough to be included on the chart, are New Bedford, 28.6 per cent. home ownership; Springfield, 27.9 per cent. home-owned; Worcester, 27.9 per cent. home-owned; and Fall River, 19.7 per cent.

The highest city on the chart is Des Moines, Ia., with a percentage of 55.1 per cent. and the lowest is New York with a percentage of 12.7. Lowell is 53rd in the list of 48 cities with a population of 100,000 or more.

Those figures speak well for Lowell as a city composed of home-loving, home-owning people. However, the situation is not as good as it might be and everything possible should be done to encourage home ownership in Lowell. It is the home owner who makes the best citizen, and is the best asset to his city.

The real estate dealers, the co-operative banks, the savings banks, the Lowell contractors should do all in their power to increase the percentage of home ownership in Lowell. There is one thing certain and that is that high rents, unreasonable rents, will start many people on the road to owning their own homes. Landlords take heed; you are thus signing your own death warrant!

A Venturesome Squirrel
The Looker-On knows of a place in the city that harbors a squirrel that is a tight-wire artist.

There are two groups of trees at this place which are by the roadside and several hundred yards apart. The elec-

DRACUT FIREMEN HOSTS AT BIG FIELD DAY

Today's the big day in Dracut, for the firemen of the town are holding their annual field day at the rifle range. Practically every family in the town joined in the celebration in honor of the fire-department who, even much of their time to the protection of the town and do it of their own free will.

The first event of the day was the parade of fire apparatus. This started in Collinsville at 1 o'clock and every section of the town was visited before the wheels were turned toward the rifle range. Leading the parade was the new fire-combination, a $12,000 piece of apparatus and the pride of every townsman. Following were the smaller trucks and apparatuses for the various sections of the town.

Among the sports scheduled for the afternoon are a horse laying contest by all four companies, foot-race for women, newspaper race, foot race for men, 100 yard dash for four companies, 100 yard dash for young women, foot race for women, 15 yard dash for women, 100 yard dash for boys, chimney race for four companies, relay race for boys, pie-eating contest for boys, and a ball game between the four companies.

Chief Gunther and George H. Stevens have donated cups for the company winning the hose-laying and chimney race contests and other prizes have been donated for the winners in the other contests.

A full-fledged midway will be located on the field during the afternoon and evening and a band concert will be given from 4 o'clock until 7 o'clock by the Lowell brass band of 20 pieces.

Admission to the grounds is free, transportation is free, and automobiles may be parked at the grounds without charge.

Electric light, telephone and cable wires also run along this same roadside and through the branches of both groups of trees.

At a certain time almost every day one may see this squirrel running along one of the wires making the trip from one clump of trees to the other. The wire is the highway by which he goes out in the morning and returns to his home in the evening.

Lowell's Cleaner City Campaign

With the organized campaign for a cleaner city planned by the city planning board it might be possible for the city to win the cup which is awarded each year to the New England city conducting the best clean-up campaign. The cup is now in possession of Lynn, which has won the cup twice. It becomes the permanent property of any city which wins it three times.

Public Utilities as Community Builders

Public utilities such as gas, electric light and street railways can either make or break a community. The quality of their service will either benefit or improve the city in which they operate.

"It has often been said," declares one man in the public utility field, "that the prosperity of a community can well be judged by its public utilities, but I believe we should go a step farther and say that all public utilities, particularly electric and gas companies, can and should be classed as community builders. However, the extent to which a utility assists in the upbuilding of a community and to what degree it merits being called a 'community builder' depends in a large measure upon its public relations."

In an address delivered before the annual convention of the Community Advertising Association of 44 Clubs of the World at their recent convention in Atlantic City, Bernard J. Mulligan, manager of public and industrial relations of the People's Gas Light and Coke Co., of Chicago, and former commissioner of public works, Chicago, said "public utilities are community builders." He told this supposition story to illustrate his point. "You arrive in a strange city—not quite a metropolis nor yet a 'small town' town; just a city. The annual charity ball is absorbing the taxpayers, so you seek a street car."

"You wait and wait—and finally a sorry looking car comes rattling and bumping along on uneven rails and you climb aboard to be jostled and jared as it rattles and lumps onward. As you leave the car, the electric lights go out."

"You stumble into the hotel and register by improvised candle light. Any how, you can get some food. Yes, a cold snack perhaps, but nothing hot; the gas service is somehow crippled."

"You grope to a telephone in anticipation of quickly hearing a local citizen's advice as to some right out to the house; but after futile struggle with busy signals and wrong numbers you surrender, with anger in your heart and the inevitable conviction you have struck a 'down town' shabby, shiftless, unprogressive, etc. That community is poorly advertised by its public utilities."

MOSES SAYS G. O. P. IN DANGER

New Hampshire Senator Sees Further Victories for Farm- er-Labor Party

Result May Prove Disastrous to G. O. P. Plans for Con- trolling Senate

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The wave of popular sentiment which carried the farmers' party to victory in the recent Minnesota election soon will make itself felt in other states in the opinion of Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee. "I think it is only a matter of time," he says, "before the result might be disastrous to republican plans for retaining a majority in the senate."

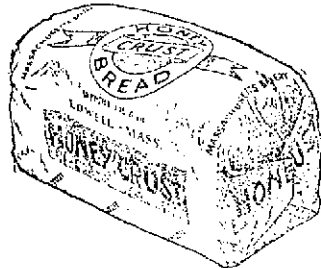

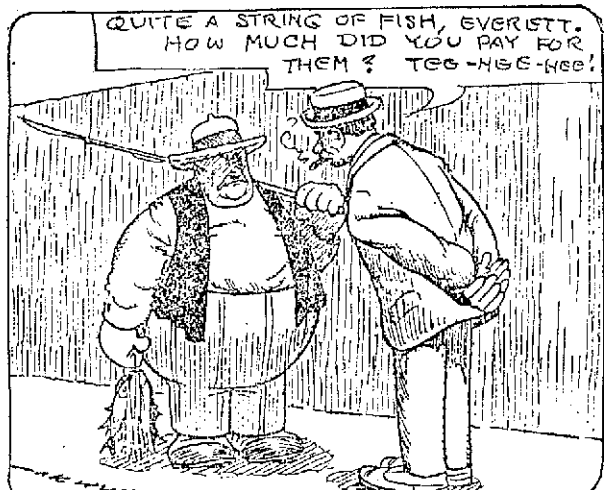

Defeat of the Minnesota republican senatorial candidate by Magnus Johnson, farmer-laborer, "the result" alluded to by Sen. Moses is general dissatisfaction, but particularly to complaints of the failure of the farm legislation of the last congress to produce results.

The people of Minnesota seemed to form the bulk of that "great west" of whom the farmer-laborer was the spokesman in Washington, claiming to represent the farmers of the northwest.

CANAAN HILLS FARMER HELD FOR MURDER

CANAAN, Vt., July 20.—Ed Bunnell, Canaan Hills farmer, who was arrested last night, charged with the murder of Job Cross, a wealthy farmer and business man of the district, whose body was found yesterday on the Frizell farm at Canaan Hill, was held here today, awaiting the arrival of state officers before his arraignment. The formal inquest on the body of Cross was also deferred, as the coroner had not arrived.

It was said this morning that the authorities had two other men under observation and that there would probably be further arrests in the case. Cross, a wealthy land owner, disappeared last Thursday. His automobile was found that day deserted at the foot of Cole's Hill, near Averbill. The attention of the police was directed to Bunnell when the latter's wife said Cross had come to Bunnell to make a settlement with her son, who had purchased a farm from Cross. Cross was said to have had a large sum of money in his possession when he disappeared. This was not found on his body when it was discovered in the woods yesterday with the head battered.

"I cannot help thinking that the movement which we have seen in Minnesota is going to spread. While in the west, I visited five states and talked with a great many people. My conclusion is that we have not heard the last of this by a long shot."

NORTHAMPTON, July 29. General satisfaction on the progress of the construction of the new United States Veterans' hospital was expressed here today by Frank T. General Hines was in this section of Massachusetts to make a tour of inspection of the new hospital here, and also to inspect the hospital at Rutland. He was shown over the hospital site by Mayor John D. Kilpatrick, constructing quartermaster in charge of the work at the hospital, and by William H. Hines, president of the chamber of commerce.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 6

"Why, I can't whistle under water," said Jack. "Sure you can," replied the watermite. "Just keep on doing that and the bubbles you send up will break into sound when they reach the top of the water." Jack did and very shortly he saw a great commotion just above him.

Closer and closer came the foam and bubbles that were traveling at a great pace. Then Jack saw that his dog was making all of them. Flip had heard Jack's whistle and knew that his master was down at the bottom of the sea. That's why he, too, jumped in and swam downward.

After Jack had patted his dog's head the watermite again suggested that they travel along. Past beds of coral and soft swamps of sponges they walked. And suddenly Flip darted ahead and started chasing a large black fish. "It's a catfish," shouted the watermite. (Continued.)

"That's good!" said Mister Sky Row. "But here we are in a more curious place than we have been yet." "Who lives here?" asked Nick. "The Dummies!" answered Mister Sky Row. "Oh, won't they hear you?" whispered Nancy. "What's the difference?" said Mister Sky Row. "They're proud of it." "What are we proud of?" asked the twins. "We're proud of being Dummies," said Mister Sky Row. "One thing about the Dummies. They're happy about nothing at all!" (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Mayor Favors "Pay - As - We - Go" Policy

DEFICITS FACED IN STREET AND ASH DEPARTMENTS UNLESS MORE MONEY IS RAISED

At an adjourned meeting of the public service board held at noon today at city hall, City Engineer Kearney submitted a report of the financial condition of the departments which come under the jurisdiction of the board, as submitted to him by City Auditor Martin. Mr. Kearney also made recommendations to the board concerning a proposed supplementary budget for certain departments, and at the close of the meeting the engineer's recommendations were submitted to Mayor John J. Donovan.

The report deals with figures concerning each department, including the appropriations granted in the early part of the year, the money expended and the balance on hand. An analysis of the report as prepared by the engineer shows that the balance left in the ash department is not sufficient to carry on the department efficiently for the last six months of the year and at the same time live within the 48-hour law; in other words the department is facing a deficit of approximately $12,000. In addition the engineer states the ash department is sorely in need of up-to-date equipment.

Relative to street maintenance, the engineer points out that the deficit will be in the vicinity of $35,000. The street lighting, street special and street sprinkling departments should be able to live within their appropriations. The deficit of the water works department will be in the vicinity of $35,000, and in addition there will be an additional expense for the installation of new boilers at the West Sixth street pumping station.

Under the non-revenue heading, the engineer states that providing the departments receive the additional $19,000 asked for in the form of loans, the schedule of work previously announced will be completed. In conclusion he says where a deficit is apparent in any department, it shall be his endeavor to satisfy only the ordinary demands. In such departments, and by strict economy, reduce the deficit to a minimum. To this end, some redistribution of employees and other changes in department detail will be immediately effected, while more will take place from time to time, in the interest of efficiency and economy.

In the letter sent to the mayor by the board a recommendation is made for an additional appropriation of $12,000 for the ash and waste department in order that the 48-hour law may be enforced. The board also recommends an additional appropriation of $55,000 for the street maintenance department.

MAYOR SAYS HE WILL STILL WITHHOLD APPROVAL OF FOURTH FIREWORKS BILL

As an aftermath of the "fireworks" at meetings of the city council in relation to the fireworks exhibit on the South common on the evening of July 4, Mayor John J. Donovan stated today that he will not approve the bill of the American Fireworks Co., for $1000 until he has conferred and gone over the entire matter with a representative of the company.

BORROWING BY CITIES TO BE GREATLY CURTAILED UNDER NEW FINANCE LAW

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, July 21.—Borrowing of money by cities and towns will be attended by some difficulties this year unless the financial officers thereof speedily familiarize themselves with the provisions of an act passed by the last legislature, Chapter 233 of the Acts of 1923.

The new law is designed to discourage the borrowing habit, and in many cases its effect will be to absolutely cut it, for a time at least. In many places it has been the custom of certain administrations to effect public improvements by means of loans, thereby throwing on the shoulders of future administrations the burden of paying for the public benefits which are used as campaign propaganda.

No longer may this be done for the law provides that no loan for certain specified purposes may be made until provision has been made in the current tax levy for meeting at least a portion of it. Specifically, it provides that at least twenty-five cents for each $1,000 of assessed valuation must be appropriated in the year during which the loan is made.

The purposes to which the new law applies are: Construction of sewers for sanitary and surface drainage purposes and for sewage disposal; acquiring land for public parks or public domains; acquiring land for any other purpose now authorized by law; constructing buildings; original equipment for public buildings; construction of bridges of stone or concrete, or of iron superstructure; original construction of public ways or the extension or widening thereof; and for land damages in connection therewith; for permanent road paving; construction of walls or dikes for the protection of

Mayor Insists That Additional
1923 Tax Rate

Mayor John J. Donovan, interviewed today in relation to the semi-annual report, as submitted by the city auditor, had the following comment to make bearing upon the financial situation of the various departments for the first half of the year:

"I am naturally pleased with the showing made by the different departments of the city," he said. "It indicates that department heads are making an earnest effort to live within their appropriations and to give serious attention to the attitude of this office in relation to keeping within the original appropriation granted to them at the beginning of the year. I am communicating with several of the departments, including streets, and the isolation hospital, to file with me at once their estimates for the remainder of the year, and to assign an opinion as to justifiable reasons, if any, why their appropriations should be depleted before the end of the year."

"I have stated repeatedly that I will not favor supplemental appropriations for departments unless there are justifiable reasons for so doing, or emergencies of an unforeseen nature arise. If there are any supplemental appropriations to be given departments, I will recommend this month such appropriations, and not permit these departments to become exhausted in November or December."

"In order that the city may have an honest tax rate this year, and all departmental appropriations provided for in this year's tax levy, supplementary appropriations must now be considered and voted, so that same may be included in this year's tax levy. This has been my financial policy. I will put it into effect, even though it will represent a higher tax rate for the year."

The showing made by the department for the first six months, however, indicates that a very limited supplemental appropriation will be required and unless heads of departments can justify their asking for additional appropriations to operate for the remainder of the year, they will be told a thing or two quite emphatically."

RICHARD BARTHELMESS and Tyrone Power in "FURY" AT THE STRAND THEATRE THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

AMUSEMENT NOTES
THE STRAND
Patrons of The Strand will have the opportunity of seeing a truly extraordinary picture during the first part of the coming week, when "Backbone," a screen version of one of the most recent popular Saturday Evening Post stories will be presented for four days, beginning with matinee on Sunday. It tells a powerful story of a romance which endures through many generations, and is played by a cast remarkable for versatility and experience. Alfred Lunt takes the male lead, and Edith Roberts appears in the stellar female role. Both are specially noted for their respective characterizations and the results of their efforts is most satisfying.
"Backbone" is a story of the fulfillment in the twentieth century of a romance which was shattered in France generations before. But it is not brought in a happy and satisfactory ending until all sorts of mystery and intrigue have been solved and thwarted. Clarence Budington Kelland wrote the story and Edward Sloan directed the picture.
"Minnie," Marshall Neilan's latest picture release through First National, will be the second feature for the first part of the week. "Minnie," like all of Neilan's productions, is of rare worth in entertaining power. There is not a dull moment in it. It is a very human story about a household drudge who is so humanly that no one hesitates to tell her. Her father owns the hotel in the town but is so taken with a new invention that he neglects his property and she has to take up her father's duties. Minnie has ideas of her own in running a hotel and she puts them into operation, to the great discomfiture of the patrons. The story is full of incidents that provide finer in generous quantity, but underneath it all is the stirring drama. Leatrice Joy and Matt Moore are appearing in the leading roles and they are assisted by a competent cast.
For the last three days of the week, Richard Barthelmess and Dorothy Gish in "Fury" will head the bill. This is a rollicking, stirring drama of the deep sea from the pen of Edmund Goulding. It is heralded as the most ambitious picture in which this star has been engaged.
Gladys Walton is always interesting and entertaining. Especially so she is in "The Song of the Soul," a lively, sparkling story of a Polaris girl. The locale is on and about Broadway, New York.
The comedy and Weekly, as well as the musical numbers by Al Forrest and Leo Betoncourt. Add to these features the wonderfully satisfying com-

The picture amplifies it is a simple lyric melody, orchestrated and expanded into a powerful and beautiful photoplay symphony.
One feels in seeing this picture, that the great poet would have been proud to have his words made into a picture harmony of such rare charm.
The photoplay begins with the love of John Craig and his boyhood sweetheart, with its youthful trials and joys. This love develops through young manhood and finally flowers into an innocent girl is accused of murder, because she was with the man she loved when the crime was committed. How she is freed through fatherly love makes this story interesting and absorbing from beginning to end.
Other pictures on the program include the second episode of "Thunderbolt Jack" with Jack Hoxie, a Mark Bennett comedy, a Burton Holmes Travelogue and a Pathe News.
The program for Sunday includes: "The Old Nest," the best "another" story since "Over the Hill" and "Deep Waters," a Cape Cod story, directed by Maurice Tourneur.
KARNO ATTRACTION
The Codomo's trip scored another decided hit at the Casino last night when they sang several catchy numbers to the accompaniment of Campbell's orchestra as a large and happy crowd of dancers glided over the smooth Casino surface. The boys will be on hand again tonight to repeat their stellar program of modern jazz songs.
Next Monday night in the Casino, Jimmy Batho and Miss Louise Fontaine, the two best dancers in the Merrimack valley, will give an exhibition of their skill in the tap-dance arena. Mr. Batho needs no introduction to local dance devotees as he has performed in several Lowell halls in recent years and yet the public has never tired of his versatile wares. Those who have witnessed his recent rehearsals with his new partner, Miss Fontaine, aver that his Monday night performance will surpass his most intimate associates. General dancing will precede and follow their exhibition.

It is not like anything Mr. Ingram has ever done and it marks another high point in the career of this young genius of the films. To say that "Where the Pavement Ends" is Mr. Ingram's work is to say that it bears the stamp of distinction and artistic finesse. This production is certainly off the beaten track, in visual appeal as well as in story.
The story tells how love came into the life of the lonely, beautiful daughter of a South Seas missionary. And it is romance supreme, amid the beauty and strangeness of the leisurely tropics where love and hate burn with consuming flame.
Two men fight for her with that furious madness which can be engendered only by jealousy over a beautiful girl. Thence the plot moves forward to a thrilling climax. The story has in it all that strange and exotic romance which is associated with the islands far below the equator.

RIALTO THEATRE
"The Trail of the Axe," a new picture in which Dustin Farnum is the star, is the chief attraction at the Rialto Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The story of this picture enables the popular actor to play the sort of character he likes best. He is seen as David Malkorn, owner of a thriving fur camp whose contracts must be filled on time or else a large forfeit in money must be paid. David is a happy-go-lucky sort of a fellow who suddenly finds that the girl he loves has engaged herself to his good-for-nothing brother. Dave's efforts to make his brother worthy of the girl and the sensational manner in which the fellow repays him, gives Dave big opportunities for straight-from-the-shoulder acting.
Admirers of Farnum by this time know that he prefers stories of the great outdoors, as "The Virginian" and "The Squaw Man." He is happiest as an actor and happiest as a man in an environment created by nature. Society plays hamper him for he is a big fellow who breathes fully and moves freely in open spaces such as prairies and forests. That's why you will like him in "The Trail of the Axe." Other members in the cast include Joseph J. Dowling, George Fisher and Winifred Kingston.

The companion attraction is "The Wrong Woman," a strong drama directed by Ivan Abramson and co-starring Olive Tell and Montagu Love. "The Wrong Woman" shows an innocent girl is accused of murder, because she was with the man she loved when the crime was committed. How she is freed through fatherly love makes this story interesting and absorbing from beginning to end.
Other pictures on the program include the second episode of "Thunderbolt Jack" with Jack Hoxie, a Mark Bennett comedy, a Burton Holmes Travelogue and a Pathe News.
The program for Sunday includes: "The Old Nest," the best "another" story since "Over the Hill" and "Deep Waters," a Cape Cod story, directed by Maurice Tourneur.

ROME, July 21.--(By the Associated Press).—Premier Mussolini today received General Riccardo Garibaldi, son of the Italian liberator, and his daughter, Italia, who urged the premier to support the scheme for directing Italian emigration to Canada which Signorina Garibaldi first presented to him March 25.

The object of the plan is to send these emigrants who are unable to enter the United States because of the quota restrictions particularly where the local Italian authorities are ready to give them assistance.

At the conclusion of the interview the premier having promised to examine the scheme, the general asked Mussolini to allow him to take from the premier's buttonhole the Fascist badge for his own wear. The premier granted the request and himself put it on the coat of the veteran general.

Repeated Conferences Fail to Settle Disputed Points in Proposed Treaty

LAUSANNE, July 24.—By the Associated Press.—Repeated conferences between Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland, and Ismet Pasha, Turkish foreign minister, and between the American and Turkish experts do not appear to have advanced the settlement of the disputed points in the proposed Turco-American treaty. The Turks are continuing to manifest the same attitude that they showed to Lord Salisbury, and the American evidently have no intention of being hurried into the signing of a convention which in their view does not properly safeguard American legitimate interests.

The scheme for control of the Turkish straits will be incorporated into the American treaty by a clause assuring that United States merchant men and warships privileges equal to those accorded any other nation. Without entering into the details of the straits regime this will give the United States all the privileges of the straits convention which will be concluded in 1922 between the United States, Russia, and Japan. It will give free passage to at least three American cruisers to and from the Black sea.

And Purchase of Flour Urged to Solve Low Price Wheat Situation

CHICAGO, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Storage of wheat and purchase of flour are advocated in the latest plan proposed to solve the low price wheat situation.

American farm bureau federation advanced an idea for the withdrawal 200,000,000 bushels of wheat to be stored on the farms, business men, bankers and farmers in Omaha launched a "buy a barrel of flour" movement intended to enlist the aid of every housewife in America.

Bureau of O. E. Murdock of the farm

Loans can be made up to three-fourths of the market value of the grain with the storage receipt as collateral, he said.

Charles S. Barrett, national president of the farmers' union, disabused the Omaha idea, declared "if the business man will take some of the wheat off the market and keep it off until the proper time to put it on, the plan will be a great success and will tide the farmer over."

Eugene Criqui, "pride of France," practically lives in the squared circle now. Here he is, in the picture at the left, winding up his training for his fight with Johnny Dundee at the Polo Grounds, New York, Thursday, July 26. That scrap will decide whether he will carry back across the sea the featherweight title he recently won from Johnny Kilbane. In the center, he's having a social little game of card with his trainer during leisure moments. And on the right you'll note he's studying the fight pictures. They're the ones that show how Willard fell before Firpo's onslaughts. Criqui's probably wondering how he'll show in the pictures after it's all over between him and Dundee.

BERLIN, July 21.—(By the Associated Press).—Serious disorders are taking place in Breslau. It was indicated by a semi-official telegram received today, saying that the governor of Lower Silesia has issued an order proclaiming "severe exceptional action" in the town and district.

Indoor meetings have been forbidden, the telegram adds, and a day's notice of a proposed meeting must be given to obtain permission to hold it.

The chief of police has instructed his men to take all possible measures to suppress excesses. Hundreds of arrests have been made and several blunderers have been killed.

The inhabitants have been advised to stay off the streets and the sale of liquor has been prohibited.

The authorities have received the German industrial leader's offer of support.

Plans for the membership drive by Lowell Post 57, American Legion, were completed at a meeting of the membership committee held in the Legion quarters last night with Senior Vice Commander Colin C. MacDonald presiding.

The first work to be undertaken by the committee, according to the plans formulated, is to get back into the organization those who joined shortly after the war, but who failed to keep up their membership. After this work has been completed a drive for new members will be made to bring the total membership up to 1500.

In the case of those men who failed to pay their dues and were dropped, Commander Joseph A. Molloy has authorized the members of the committee to accept dues and to sign receipts for money received.

The drive will begin at once and it is expected that the goal will be reached within a short time.

ST. "Gibbons did not receive one cent," Kane said. "He was paid, however, his training expenses and his money went to defray the cost of his camp and sparring partners. The balance of revenue will be from the motion pictures."

The latest thing in aviation circles is the "rescue sled" shown above. Many planes get disabled in tests and are compelled to land on mud flats near the Naval Air Station, San Diego, Calif. So this sled, which draws but eight inches of water, carries six men and travels 30 miles an hour, was devised. It tows the planes.

He also informed the council that the only legal way to pass such an ordinance was by making a supplementary amendment.

The following letter from Mayor McHenry, dated July 4, 1914, in connection with the investigation of the fireworks display on the South common on the evening of July 4 was received:

led by President Gallagher. "Members of the city council have received your communication requesting that this office investigate the display of fireworks on the South common, July 4th, for the purpose of determining and advising the city council, if the city received full value for the sum appropriated for such fireworks."

At this point J. Joseph Hennesse, chairman of the city council, asked the members of the electric board, asked the city clerk, and the city solicitor a few questions and then granted him. He asked the city solicitor if a law passed in 1923 took precedence over one enacted in 1922, and the answer was "No." Two or three more questions were asked. Then Hennesse, but there came an "Oh, my!"

been, and I am afraid always will be, in a mooted question as to value received. It is more or less a gamble, and the only thing I can expect is that the odds will be quite sure, if a person is unduly anxious to find fault with the mayor's office, a display of fireworks is invariably seized upon as affording such opportunity, regardless of the merits of the case.

The award of the contract for fireworks was made in the usual way.

The purchasing unit called for bids and the contract was given the firm that at least gave the best display on paper and in ink.

A wide difference between display of fireworks on paper and in display in the air, frankly, I confess I am not expert enough in such matters to be able to detect the difference beforehand. It is possible that the commission's opinion may be based on superior knowledge of aerial pyrotechnics.

"Gratuity" contained in the solicitor's opinion, saying the members of the commission performed the work as well as they could be remunerated. Mr. Reynolds stated that they were paid for their services inasmuch as they drew $10 a year.

Mr. Hennessy then stated that the legislature commands the men to do it and they have no opinion to explain. The commission members were being paid from local funds.

I assume that the attitude of one Angelo Bacci that his firm will discontinue the recent fireworks display for the sum of $200, is made unnecessary and influenced by the fact that he has been disappointed in the results of the contract. If this generous offer would be repudiated. He said if a solicitor did something commendable and the council appropriated money for him, that would be gratifying. "I am not a politician," he said "for the legislators do what they please." He said that he was due respect to the city solicitor, members of the commission perform the work and they feel they are entitled to the salary fixed for them by law.

The committee then took up a hair-brained question of the insurance company, a member of the insurance com-will continue in effect until next year, we may feel reasonably sure of a stupendous and wonderful display of fireworks for the sum of $1900 next year.

After purchasing agent's office checked up on the South Common different items as specified in the contract and found delivery of same to be correct. His certification of this was given to the board in 1914.

Commissioner E. J. Connelley, in observing the laws of the commonwealth, stated that the ordinance was passed, and seen to be approved. Commissioner McQuinn moved amendment to the motion that the ordinance be referred back to the city hall with instructions to request the board to make supplementary budget with the city.

[illegible]

After the reading of the letter, Councilor Daly denied the statement of the mayor that he had taken up the fireworks question, to find fault with the industry for doing the display ever far inferior to that of previous years and held the city was humiliated and gloomed.

President Callender said that the South Dakota, was the following: "I would like to see the state of South Dakota to be a place where the dangerous weapons are taken off the streets, where the companies underground are forced to remove the unsightly potholes from the streets."

He was also accepted from the Local Historical Society to the extent that the organization was willing and ready to co-operate with the council in making the celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the incorporation of Lou-man who criticized the display. The mayor's communication was placed on the table.

Three orders aggregating $31,600 for black paving, macadam work and the paving of Lawrence street, were approved.

The next matter taken up was the ordinance fixing the salary of the election commissioners at $2,000 a year.

Must Break All Rules of Fashion to Be Distinctively Dressed

Introduce Jazz Note Into Costumes
If You Wish to Look Smart

TOKIO, IN A GOWN OF HER OWN CREATION

BY MARIAN HALE
N. E. Service Writer
NEW YORK, July 21.—Introduce the jazz note into your costume if you wish to be smartly dressed. Tokyo, one of the most original fashion centers in the world, has led the way.

Get off the key occasionally and look up the customary rules of blouses, skirts and hats if you wish to be distinctively dressed. The first thing that strikes you when you enter a Japanese shop is the lack of uniformity. The first thing that strikes you when you enter a Japanese shop is the lack of uniformity. The first thing that strikes you when you enter a Japanese shop is the lack of uniformity.

With the Best
They were so enthusiastically received she decided to plan a night in on a big scale. So she rented and equipped a shop in New York right in the swagging Fifth Avenue, among all the smart shops that house they carry nothing but "reputations" and want to work.

She announced frankly she had never heard of Paris and never expected to go there for her first job. But she was tremendously interested in the American woman.

And now her American style is so popular she can't fill all the orders she gets.

"Nonconformity is my motto, because the only way to be distinctive is to break all the rules of fashion."

Back Ached
TERRIBLY
Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Texas.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, my cramps and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and it has certainly given me great relief." Mrs. C. B. Robinson, 605 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful menstruation, nervousness, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson's. These women tell what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial. However, make a great mistake in allowing them to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Finishing Makes Simple
Blouse Distinctive

COPYRIGHT BY M. CALLS

A most popular blouse for summer and baste the colored facing to the sleeve, right sides together. Mark the line to be cut with a basting thread and stitch one-fourth inch from each end, cutting diagonally to each corner. Draw the facing through the cut and press it and baste it back, basting from the right side to form a neat fold. At each end, a tiny pleat is formed. A fine line of stitches should be put around the binding to keep it in place. This facing should be used as a lining for the lower part of the sleeve when the blouse is finished. Turn up the bottom of the sleeve on the hem line and slipstitch the facing over this hem as shown in figure 4. This careful finishing adds distinction to an otherwise simple blouse.

Lasting Memorial for Beloved
School Teacher Still Living

By N. E. A. Service
WICHITA, Kan., July 21.—Miss Kate Haynes may hereafter count herself among the few prominent Americans who have been remembered with a lasting memorial while yet alive.

Miss Haynes has done nothing to stir the world into recognition of her importance or comparison with such famous women as Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Florence Nightingale or Sarah Bernhardt. Yet in her own town of Wichita Falls she has gained so much love and confidence that a beautiful fountain has been put up as the monument to her service.

The fountain is on the campus of the Alamo Ward school, where Miss Haynes has been teaching for the last 22 years. She was "primary teacher" for all of Wichita Falls when she first taught the children in the old public school. Today she is primary supervisor for the Alamo ward.

And she's still teaching. The mother of the little folks who keep their lessons to her today taught to school to her in their pinafores 25 and 30 years ago. In a few years she may be teaching the grandchildren of the youngsters who attended her first class.

Her energy, even now, points to this continuity.

MISS KATE HAYNES

Pres. Harding Not to Call Special Session

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. HENDERSON, WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding, it can be declared, positively has no intention of calling congress into session in advance of its regular meeting in December. While he has made no direct statement, those among his party on his tour of Alaska who reflect his views say that he has no idea of heeding a demand for an extra session made by Senator Brookhart, republican, of Iowa. Associates of the president say he feels that there is little or no need for an immediate ascending of congress and furthermore that the leaders in congress, in common with the public generally, are of the opinion that the country is benefiting by the current recess of congress. The president and Mrs. Harding and their party were today en route from Cordova to Sitka, where they expect to arrive tomorrow for an all day visit, before bidding farewell to Alaska.

Storehouse Threatened by Fire

HAVERHILL, July 21.—A two-alarm fire which broke out shortly after 8:15 this morning, totally destroyed a two-story stable, owned by J. O. Ellison, dealer in grains, and threatened two large boarding houses and a storehouse, occupied by the Atherton People's Furniture store. The damage is estimated at $6000.

Panama Canal Closed by Landslide

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—Runners that the Panama Canal had been closed by a landslide were contained in radio messages received here last night from the tankers De Roche and Inlay, on the way from Los Angeles harbor to the east coast, asking their agents for advice and instructions, according to the Los Angeles Examiner. According to the paper, a radio also was received here from the tanker Hugoton at Salina Cruz, containing the statement "slide in canal."

Passive Resistance Germans' Weapon

STUTTGART, July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The German people must never surrender their mightiest weapon of defense, namely, passive resistance, declared Dr. Johannes Heiber, president of Wuertemberg, in the Diet today. To active resistance, he was absolutely opposed and, Wuertemberg, he said, must continue standing behind the Berlin government, warmly approving Berlin's declaration against incitement against internal disorders. Heiber warned both the right and left factions against any machinations calculated to lead to disturbances, declaring that outside the government there must be no organized military power.

CAVALIER CAPE
FOR WOMEN

The cavalier cape has come back but not this time for the cavaliers. This old-time masculine style has returned for feminine garb. The cavalier cape is three-quarters length and often, as

It is sketched here, made entirely of pleats. It is much more effective when worn with a dress that carries out the same pleated style. It's the swaggiest thing to wear on the beach or on the street. Its suitable ness depends on the material. Made of jersey, wool, cotton, or any of the printed cotton fabrics in the light colors, it is suited for sports wear. Made of crepe de chine, tulle or a light French rep, it will be a popular costume for fall street wear.

SMOCKING NEVER

Smocking has always been a popular trimming for children's clothes. It is never out of style—just now it is being used more than ever.

Smocking on a boy's suit is a trimming that he will not consider off-mate. The suit shown here is the kind we imagine Little Boy Blue wore when he blew his horn or Little Jack Horner when he ate his pie. It has the practical advantages of a loose blouse which gives a convenient freedom to strenuous plays.

CHELMSFORD POULTRY
RAISERS RANK HIGH

Two Chelmsford men are among the highest on the list of the poultry record for Middlesex county for the month of June. A. H. B. Park is second with a production of 174 eggs per bird, and Ralph W. Emerson is third with an average of 165 eggs per bird. The highest record was 186 eggs, won by a Waltham woman.

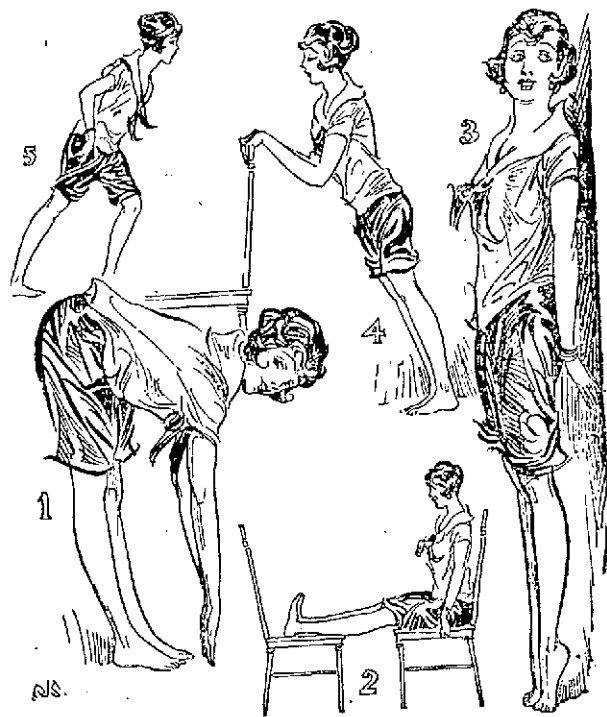

The members of the boys' poultry club, under the auspices of the Middlesex county bureau, were awarded cash prizes. Four Chelmsford boys are on the list. B. and J. Hart, brothers, who have a flock together consisting of 174 birds, are giving 324 eggs per bird. Herman Olson and Charles Charlton were second and third respectively.

Sensible Shoes and Healthful Exercise
Will Correct Foot Troubles, Says Pediatricist

FORMS OF EXERCISE RECOMMENDED BY MISS CAMPBELL FOR THE CARE OF THE FEET.

BY MARIAN HALE
N. E. Service Writer
NEW YORK, July 21.—Do you have those aching, tired feet that trouble the women of this country who have trodden with their feet?

If so, you may as well prepare for more trouble, according to Miss Berde Campbell, pediatricist, and chairman of the public welfare committee of the Pediatric society of New York.

"During the era of the dapper, sensible shoes came into vogue," she explains, "but the long skirts have brought back the higher heels and the attendant ailments of the foot."

Miss Campbell has studied feet for 15 years. She has also studied women, and she knows that the most beautiful shoes are not the most comfortable. And that most women will stand discomfort rather than have their feet unbearably shod.

So she doesn't advise all women to wear sensible shoes all the time, for she knows they won't. But she does urge them to wear wide-toed shoes with low or only moderately high heels for general wear and save the exaggerated lasts and ultra-high heels for special occasions.

Exercise Essential
Also she advises every woman to do a few exercises daily, especially not from the waist, but from the hips, caused by ill-fitting shoes.

"To lengthen and strengthen the muscles of the calf of the leg that have become shortened because of high heels bend forward as far as you can, not for the waist, but from the hips, so you can feel a pull on the leg muscles. Let your fingertips touch the floor if you will."

"A less strenuous exercise is to sit in one chair and put your feet in another. Then with the legs perfectly straight, pull as far back as you can with the toes."

"Standing on tip-toe is an excellent exercise for the muscles of the foot. Stand against the wall, if your feet are wobbly, and raise yourself as far on your tip-toes as you can."

Muscle Strengtheners
"Then stand arm's length from a chair, lean forward as far as you can without bending the knees, keeping the feet flat on the floor."

"To stretch the muscles of your right leg, step forward on the left foot and bend the knee as much as possible while holding the right leg perfectly straight. To stretch the left, step forward and do the same with the right."

Miss Campbell advises every mother to watch her children's feet and to see that the arches are kept normal and the toes straight.

"It is in childhood that bad habits of walking and standing are formed that are most difficult to break," she says.

Every woman likes to offer a long, cool drink to the chance to offer a hot summer's afternoon, but if she must spend most of the minutes of the day preparing the refreshment, the effort is unprofitable and the visit a failure. This informal service is a real problem to the woman without a maid.

One solution is to keep fruit strips on hand. If small fruits are canned by the open kettle method there is always a lot of extra juice. Save the extra strip from each can and when through with the canning, rescale the juice and seal in pint bottles or jars. Always be sure there is a hot bottle on hand. With the addition of water and cracked ice a refreshing drink is ready in the twinkling of an eye.

Fruit not perfect enough in shape for cutting might be used for fruit strips.

Lemon Syrup
Three dozen lemons, 3 pounds sugar, 1 quart water.
Wash lemons and grate rind. Squeeze juice from lemons. Put grated rind, juice, sugar and water in a smooth sauce pan and bring slowly to a boil. Let boil five minutes and pour into sterilized bottles or jars and seal while boiling hot. Be sure the bottles are hot.

To remove wall paper from the wall use a heaping tablespoon of saltpetre.

BATH TUB
Common baking soda applied on a damp cloth will clean the bathtub quite acceptably.

SCALING FISH
When cleaning fish, pour boiling water over the fish until the scales curl. Then they can be scraped off very easily.

LEFT-OVER POTATOES
Don't pile left-over potatoes together in a bowl, as they will sour quickly. Spread them out on a large dish.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS
WALL MARKS
Those marks on the wall made by careless people who scratch patches there may be removed by rubbing them with a piece of lemon.

SALTY SOUP
When the soup is too salty add a few slices of raw potato and remove after they have boiled a few minutes. They will absorb some of the salt.

BRISK BUSINESS IN BUILDING TRADES REFLECTED IN HOMES NOW BEING ERECTED

"Business," said George A. Stewart, secretary of the Lowell Contractor's association, "is very good and is considerably better in every line of work handled by the contractors than it was last year. Bricklayers, plumbers, carpenters and electrical workers have all the work they can possibly do and I do not expect any slackening in the demand until the cold weather sets in."

"The trend of building can easily be followed by comparing the amount of permits granted by the buildings department in a certain month. The amount of building covered by permits granted during the month of May this year was about double the amount covered one year ago.

"The housing situation has been since the early days of the war, one of the greatest questions before the government and the people. Rents reached unbelievable heights and, up to the present time, have shown no great inclination to come down. A man who does not own his own house is living on the verge of uncertainty. There has been a slight decrease in rents within the past year, however, and the people have taken advantage of this, or else have given up hope of prices going any lower, and have begun to build. Several residential sections of the city show unusual structural activity at present as a result.

"Garages, however, are being built at an unprecedented rate of speed. Where formerly there was one machine to every 20 or 30 of our population, it is now figured that there is one to eight. Public garages are taking up every vacant lot of land on the main roads and private garages are built in yards, and in locations where lawn areas are sacrificed for their erection.

"The labor situation in the building trades is very good, wages are fairly high and there has been no labor trouble to amount to anything during the year. Tradesmen find no difficulty in getting work and the contractors are not delayed to any extent by a shortage of labor."

cent of the families in the United States own the homes in which they live, while 54.4 per cent. live in rented quarters. During the preceding ten years the proportion of rented homes increased one-half of one per cent with a corresponding decrease in the proportion of homes owned.

Lowell is 26.1 per cent. home-owned. The only other Massachusetts city with a home ownership of a percentage high enough to be included on the chart are New Bedford, 28.6 per cent. home ownership; Springfield, 27.9 per cent. home-owned; Worcester, 27.7 per cent. home-owned, and Fall River, 19.7 per cent.

The highest city on the chart is Des Moines, Ia., with a percentage of 61.1 per cent. and the lowest is New York with a percentage of 12.7. Lowell is 53rd in the list of 68 cities with a population of 100,000 or more.

These figures speak well for Lowell as a city composed of home-loving, home-owning people. However, the situation is not as good as it might be. There is one thing certain and that is that high rents, unreasonable rents, will start many people on the road to owning their own homes. Landlords take heed; you are thus signing your own death warrant.

The real estate dealers, the cooperative banks, the savings banks, the Lowell contractors should do all in their power to increase the percentage of home ownership in Lowell. There is one thing certain and that is that high rents, unreasonable rents, will start many people on the road to owning their own homes. Landlords take heed; you are thus signing your own death warrant.

A Venturesome Squirrel
The Looker-On knows of a place in the city that harbors a squirrel that is a tight-wire artist.

There are two groups of trees at this place which are by the roadside and several hundred yards apart. The squirrel

Today's the big day in Lowell for the firemen of the town are holding their annual field day at the rifle range. Practically every family in the town joined in the celebration in honor of the fire-fighters who give much of their time to the protection of the town and do it of their own free will.

The first event of the day was the parade of fire apparatus. This started in Collinsville at 1 o'clock and every section of the town was visited before the wheels were turned toward the rifle range. Leading the parade was the new triple-combination, a $12,000 piece of apparatus and the pride of every townsman. Following were the smaller trucks and automobiles for the transportation of the needs of the various sections of the town.

Among the sports scheduled for the afternoon are a hose laying contest by all four companies, football race, newspaper race, barrel-war for women, newspaper race for men, tug-of-war for four companies, 100 yard dash for young women, fat women's race (25 yards); potato race for women, 100 yard dash for women, 100 yard dash for boys, chimney fire contest for four companies, relay race for boys, pie-eating contest for boys, and a ball game between the four companies.

Chief Gunther and George H. Stevens have donated cups for the company winning the hose-laying and chimney fire contests and other prizes have been donated for the winners in the other contests.

A full-bodged midway will be located on the field during the afternoon and evening and a band concert will be given from 2 o'clock until 7 o'clock by the Lowell brass band of 20 players.

Admission to the grounds is free, transportation is free, and automobiles may be parked at the grounds without charge.

Electric light, telephone and cable wires also run along this same roadside and through the branches of both groups of trees.

At a certain time almost every day one may see this squirrel running along one of the wires making the trip from one clump of trees to the other. The wire is the highest wire which he goes out in the morning and returns to his home in the evening.

Lowell's Cleaner City Campaign

With the organized campaign for a cleaner city planned by the city planning board it might be possible for the city to win the cup which is awarded each year to the New England city conducting the best clean-up campaign. The cup is now in possession of Lynn, which has won the cup twice. It becomes the permanent property of any city which wins it three times.

Public Utilities as Community Builders
Public utilities such as gas, electric light and street railways can either make or break a community. The quality of their service will either benefit or improve the city in which they operate.

"It has often been said," declares one of the public utility officials, "that the prosperity of a community can well be judged by its public utilities, particularly electric and gas companies, and should be classed as community builders. However, the extent to which a utility assists in the building of a community and to what degree it merits being called a 'community builder' depends in a large measure upon its public relations."

In an address delivered before the annual convention of the Community Advertising Association of Ad Clubs of the World at their recent convention in Atlantic City, Bernard J. Mulvaney, manager of public and industrial relations of the People's Gas Light and Coke Co. of Chicago, and former commissioner of public works, Chicago, said "public utilities are community builders."

He told this supposition story to illustrate his point. "You arrive in a strange city—not quite a metropolis, nor yet a 'small time' town; just a city. The annual charity ball is absorbing the taxpayers, so you seek a street car."

"You wait and wait—and finally a sorry looking car comes rattling and bumping along on uneven rails and you climb aboard to be jostled and jarred as it rattles and bumps onward. As you leave the car, the electric lights go out."

"You stumble into the hotel and register by improvised candle light. Anyhow, you can get some food. Yet a cold snack perhaps, but nothing hot; the gas service is somehow crippled."

"You grope to a telephone in anticipation of quickly hearing a local friendly voice urge to 'come right out to the house' but after futile struggle with busy signals and 'wrong number,' you surrender, with murder in your heart and the ineradicable conviction you have struck a 'bum town,' shabby, shiftless, unprogressive, etc. That community is poorly advertised by its public utilities."

PARDONED BY WILSON

Man, Who Prevented Jail Delivery, Now Escapes From Insane Hospital

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Erwin F. Wilson, of Brookline, Mass., who was pardoned by President Wilson for preventing a jail delivery at Fort Leavenworth, where he was imprisoned, escaped early today from the state hospital for the criminal insane, at Fairview, Pa.

Wilson, whose activities have engaged the attention of the police in many parts of the country, was this week declared sane and was to have been brought to Philadelphia today to face four indictments charging larceny and assault with intent to kill two policemen.

The hospital which is in the northeastern corner of Pennsylvania, notified the Philadelphia authorities that Wilson escaped in an automobile stolen from a keeper. Wilson was known to have $35 in his possession. The state police of New York were notified to watch for him.

Wilson was committed to the institution under the alias of Ralph Goodman, March 1920, after a lunacy hearing in which his mother and sister testified that he was normal until he received an injury to his head at the Kelly Mine field, Tex., in 1917, when his criminal escapades began.

MacDonald, first lieutenant, infantry, D.O.A., officer in charge of the Citizens' Military Training camp, in behalf of General Brewster.

British Note is Delivered

British government agreed to the note's publication.

Premier Poincaré's address at the moment of ceremonies in Villers-Cotteret tomorrow will present anew France's attitude on the reparations issue, but as the speech had been written before the British note arrived it will be a simple statement of the French position without regard to the questions raised by the British.

Actual negotiations among the allies will begin next week, as soon as the French and Belgian plenipotentiaries had time to discuss the note with their cabinets. The French cabinet ministers will probably meet Monday or Tuesday and go over the note with Premier Poincaré. Afterwards views will be exchanged with Belgium.

Washington Gets Copy

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The British note on reparations sent to the allied capitals also was delivered to the Washington government today as a matter of information. State department officials said the note would not be made public, nor could the subject be discussed. The note came through the American embassy in London.

Cabinet Members Leave

LONDON, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The British note in reply to the German reparations communication has been delivered to the allied ambassadors and all the members of the British cabinet have dispersed to the country for the week-end. It is understood that the French cabinet meets tomorrow.

penne of $22,000, while Lowell gets nothing.

Judge Knight said the appeal of the members of the Lowell bar has been unheeded by the commissioners. Last fall a delegation from Lowell requested that the commission do something in this city, but when the commissioners petitioned to the legislature for permission to borrow money, they said nothing about Lowell.

"And East Cambridge gets it all," said Judge Knight. "Lowell can't get a thing."

In discussing the subject later, Supt. of Police Atkinson said that something would have to be done very soon. The county court in the quarters occupied by the police station expressed this year, and already the commission has notified the city that unless something is done to remedy conditions there, the lease will not be renewed.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 21.—The market today reversed its recent upward course. Heavy selling in the oil group undermined the rest of the list after opening prices had displayed considerable strength. Professional traders who have been skeptical about the maintenance of the advance concentrated their efforts against the oil issues, recent cuts in crude oil prices making those shares sensitive to pressure. Some of the motor and equipment issues also gave way sharply. The Pan-American issues were the weakest, losing over two points each. The closing was heavy. Sales approximately 300,000 shares.

Buying orders distributed over practically the entire list resulted in higher prices at the opening of today's stock market. Strength of major accessory shares was the outstanding feature. Stewart Warner moving up 1 and Stromberg Carburetor 1 1/2. United Fruit advanced 2 1/2. Union Bag & Paper was an exception to the general trend, declining 2 1/2 points.

Prices of many of the important stocks drifted higher during the first half hour, and fully supplied and Pan-American B fell off large fractions. Indications of better business prospects were instrumental in causing a demand for a number of specialties. Brooklyn Union Gas advanced 2 1/2. Union Bag & Paper 2 and Cuba Cane Sugar preferred, American Ice, Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke, Mallison and Pils Elevator a point or more. Foreign exchange rates opened slightly higher.

Big Drop in Cotton Spinning Activities

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Cotton spinning activity fell off almost a billion active spindle hours in June, as compared with May but exceeded June of last year by 738,000,000 active spindle hours, the Census Bureau's monthly report today shows. Active spindle hours during June totaled 8,384,558,582, or an average of 224 hours per spindle in place, compared with 9,309,093,837 or an average of 249, in May this year, and 7,616,304,929, or an average of 207 in June last year.

URGE EQUAL RIGHTS LEGISLATION

SENeca FALLS, N. Y., July 21.—While 23,000,000 women have benefited by equal rights legislation in the last two years, the state to state method of working the fight has proved wasteful of time, energy and money. Miss Alice Paul declared today in presenting her equal rights constitutional amendment resolution to the national woman's party in conference here.

The resolution urged congress to amend the federal constitution in its attempt to give men and women equal rights throughout the United States and all territory under its jurisdiction.

"In the past two years, 23,000,000 women have been benefited by the passage of equal rights legislation in 14 states," Miss Paul said in part. "In Delaware, Georgia, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Mississippi, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, the rights of women have been made eligible to public office. In Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia, married women have been empowered to choose their own residences for voting purposes. In Maine they have been admitted to jury service. Various other minor reforms have been effected. But in only one state, Wisconsin, has our general equal rights still met with success."

"Considered in comparison with the great mass of discriminatory legislation which exists throughout the country, this progress has been too slow. The experience of the fight for suffrage proved that exclusive adherence to the state to state method is wasteful of our time, our energy and our money. The only way in which complete equality can be gained for all women within a reasonable time is by federal amendment, just as the right to vote was

FIGHT TRAIN TRAGEDY

The last of the Dempsey-Gilbous fight fans were returning on an exceptionally long train that struck the auto driven by Rev. W. H. Driver, pastor of the M. E. church at Hunter, N. D.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Safety Lessons FOR The Auto Driver

Prepared by the National Safety
Council—Issued by the Massachusetts Safety Council.
No. 14—The Auto and Street Car

It is dangerous to follow too closely behind a moving street car. If the car stops suddenly the automobile driver (especially if he is riding the car rails) may find it impossible to avoid a collision. Or the car may turn at a street intersection and crowd you between the car and the curb. Then, too, a person may jump from the car directly in the path of your automobile.

The driver should stop his automobile not less than 10 feet back of a standing street car and remain there until the car starts up again. If there is a safety zone, drivers in some cities are allowed to pass the car provided they proceed cautiously and keep at least 8 feet from the side of the car.

Some drivers take dangerous chances in crowding in between a trolley car and the curb, or between a car and another object where the clearance is too small.

Drivers should not attempt to pass on the left of a street car going in the same direction. In several cities it is forbidden by local ordinance. A car may be coming in the opposite direction or pedestrians who were hidden by the car may be injured. Always sound horn when passing a car, no matter what its direction may be.

Automobiles have frequently been hit by the rear end of a car when the car was turning a corner. It turns the end of the car swings out and extending several feet beyond the tracks. Watch for curves.

Always remember that the street car runs on tracks and cannot arbitrarily change its course. It is therefore the driver's responsibility to watch for automobiles.

CROWDS VIEW VILLA'S BODY

Two Theories Advanced by Investigating Officers on Killing of Bandit Leader

Body Lies in City Hall at Parral, With Thousands
Flocking to View It

PARRAL, Chihuahua, Mexico, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.) The body of Francisco "Pancho" Villa lies in the city hall here, with thousands of persons flocking to view it.

Heavily guarded as always, a part of his military strategy learned in a hard school of experience, Villa met death yesterday on the outskirts of Parral between Long's house and the Guila Juanto bridge when seven unidentified assassins from an ambush sent 15 bullets into the body and head. Colonel Miguel Trillo, Villa's secretary; Rosalia Morales, one body guard, and one bystander whose name has not been learned, also were killed. One Villa guard was wounded. The attacking band totalling seven, the bandit's unlucky number.

The assassins fled on an horses which had been hidden in the river bed near the bridge.

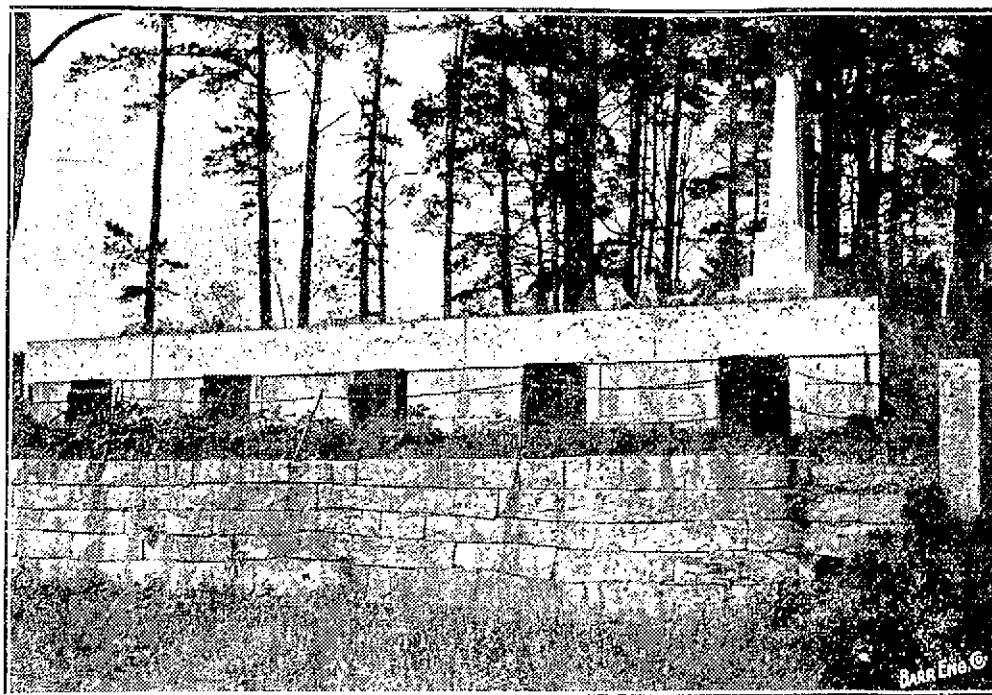

General E. Martinez, commanding a detachment of 100 federal soldiers, however, captured three of the attacking seven just yesterday near here.

Federal troops have gone to Canutillo in anticipation of possible disorders at Villa's estate. Affairs affecting Villa's estate admittedly are mixed and some opinion is openly stated here that the ranch may revert to the state.

Troops from the command of Gen. Jose G. Escobar are bound here from Torreon to help in the pursuit of the assassins.

Two theories are advanced by investigating officers. One is that deserters from Villa's guard committed the killings. The other is that of revenge.

Lawless Vandals Break Into Historic Richardson Family Tomb in Pelham

RICHARDSON TOMB IN BUTLER CEMETERY, PELHAM

Revealing the legendary excavations at a loss to account for the disturbance of the vault, one of the oldest and most familiar in the township, while Constable John G. Jeannot is inclined to believe that the work was that of irresponsible boys. There are no traceable clues to work on, they say, but should the culprits be apprehended, they will be dealt with severely. The punishment for such an offense is usually a jail sentence in the state of New Hampshire.

There have been no burials in the Butler cemetery for more than 15 years, townspeople stated today. The descendants of the Richardsons are long since dead and gone and even the memory of their residential life in Pelham has passed into history. Gen. S. M. Richardson, as far as could be learned from the inscription on the obelisk surrounding the vault, was the son of Daniel Richardson, who died on May 23, 1835, at the age of 54 years, and Sarah H. Richardson, who died on Aug. 25, 1841, at the ripe old age of 92. The title of "General" was conferred on the son because of his endeavors to organize a military unit in the town before the outbreak of the Civil war. He died on March 12, 1853, aged 32 years. His first wife, Abigail, died at the age of 63 years on June 21, 1828, while a second wife, Hannah, passed away on June 9, 1867. All are buried in separate compartments in the huge vault.

Small stone steps lead to the interior in each of the five compartments, enclosed by heavy iron doors and bolted. The locks were broken by the vandals and some of the doors ripped from their hinges. The wooden caskets, of obsolete design, were torn open. In one of the vaults the remains of a baby, whose name does not appear on the obelisk, this casket was left untouched.

Constable Jeannot was informed by state authorities that the damage, which he characterized as "disgraceful," will be repaired by the state as soon as possible.

Hold Up Cambridge Paymaster and Escape After Running Gun Fight

Get Away in Stolen Auto, Which Was Later Found With Flat Tire

CAMBRIDGE, July 21.—Armed bandits yesterday held up and robbed the paymaster of the Penn Metal Co. of about $3900 of the company's payroll and after a running gun fight made good their escape. The automobile that the hold-up men used was found 15 minutes later near Inman square with a flat tire. The machine had been reported stolen about an hour before the hold-up took place. The Penn Metal Co.'s factory is located near the Belmont boundary in an isolated section. The hold-up took place at about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Paymaster Jeremiah J. Crowley of Somerville had just arrived from Boston with the weekly payroll and had begun to send the envelopes at his desk in the factory office when a man entered the office with a leveled gun. A second stood in the doorway holding it open. He, too, covered the office force. Beside the paymaster stood his assistant, Ernest Nash of Melrose. Mary H. Gallagher of Somerville, an order clerk, attempted to snatch the box, but was refused when the bandit pushed his revolver to her side and a second girl, Madeline Smith, attempted to use a telephone, but she, too, was quickly dissuaded.

CONSIDERING PEACE TERMS

Telephone Company's Proposal for Strike Settlement Still Under Consideration

Miss O'Connor Admits Terms Not Given Up By Striking Operators

BOSTON, July 21.—Terms outlined by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for settlement of the strike of several thousand operators in progress since July 26, still are under consideration by the strikers, despite the action of the regional council, New England Telephone Operators' union Thursday night in rejecting the company's plan.

Admission that the peace terms had not been given up altogether, was made yesterday when Miss Julia S. O'Connor, president of the striking union, and several members of her committee conferred with telephone company heads for the second time since the strike began. A statement issued by the company after this conference said that it was called by Miss O'Connor "to inquire into certain matters of procedure in carrying the provisions of the company's offer into effect."

Later the same scale committee of the strikers held a lengthy meeting which was attended by labor officials, but no report was given out. Miss O'Connor would say nothing more than that the strike had not been called off.

The company's offer provided for the reemployment of as many of the strikers as possible without prejudice to the positions of new workers engaged since the strike was called, each girl renounced to receive the wages to which her full term of service would entitle her. Strikers reemployed would forfeit seniority rights and would be restored to their full standing under the company's benefit plan only after a year's probation.

Persistent Rumors That Sir James Craig Will Resign Premiership

Reports Based on Absence of Premier From Belfast During Orange Celebration

BELFAST, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.) It is persistently rumored that Sir James Craig will resign as premier of Ulster, according to the Irish News, a national newspaper.

The reports are based, apparently, on the absence of the premier from Belfast last week for the Orange demonstrations.

The Belfast News says that his name has been associated with the coming appointment to a colonial governorship. It is stated authoritatively that he is offered a colonial post in 1924, but refused because it necessitated his withdrawal from Irish politics during that critical period.
